Policing And Conflict In Northern Ireland:

Policing and Conflict in Northern Ireland J. Wright, K. Bryett, 2015-12-22 In societies suffering from acute political and social cleavage policing agencies are invariably at the heart of the conflict resolution processes In Northern Ireland there have been calls for the RUC to be disbanded as well as for it to be retained unchanged After considering various options and models especially from Spain South Africa and the Netherlands this book charts a path for reform that takes account of Northern Ireland's political realities and will help build trust and inclusions

Policing and Combating Terrorism in Northern Ireland Neil Southern, 2018-04-12 This book explores the challenges of combating terrorism from a policing perspective using the example of the Royal Ulster Constabulary GC RUC in Northern Ireland The RUC was in the frontline of counter terrorism work for thirty years of conflict during which time it also provided a normal policing service to the public However combating a protracted and vicious terrorist campaign exacted a heavy price on the force Importantly the book addresses a seriously under researched theme in terrorism studies namely the impact of terrorism on members of the security forces Accordingly the book examines how officers have been affected by the conflict as terrorists adopted a strategy which targeted them both on and off duty This resulted in a high percentage of officers being killed whilst off duty sometimes in the company of their wives and children The experience of officers wives is also documented thus highlighting the familial impact of terrorism Generally speaking the victims of terrorist attacks have received scant scholarly attention which has resulted in victims experiences being little understood This piece of work casts a specific and unique light on the nature of victimhood as it has been experienced by members of this branch of the security forces in Northern Ireland

Democratic Policing in Transitional and Developing Countries Michael D. Wiatrowski, 2016-05-13 Is it possible to create democratic forms of policing in transitional and developing societies This volume argues that policing models and practices promoted by the west are often inadequate for adoption by countries making democratic transitions because they do not adequately address issues such as human rights equity co production accountability openness and organizational change Therefore police reform is often limited to a one size fits all approach The book expands the dialogue so that discussions of democratic policing around the world are more realistic comprehensive and sensitive to the local context Detailed case studies on Iraq South Africa Northern Ireland and Kazakhstan provide a realistic assessment of the current state of policing The editors use the studies to suggest how to promote democratic policing and other important goals of democratic reform around the world The volume will assist academics policy makers NGOs and others in tailoring a local democratic policing strategy within a broader framework to enhance socioeconomic development and citizen capacity build social capital reduce various forms of conflict and support human rights

Representations of Policing in Northern Irish Theatre T. W. Saunders, 2023-03-31 This monograph provides the first sustained chronological account of Northern Irish police officers representation in theatre Importantly its scope comprises a critical period of national and organisational development beginning with the Partition of Ireland in 1921 and the founding of the Royal Ulster Constabulary RUC one year later in 1922 It progresses through the relevant theatrical and historical events of the century through the period after the RUC s dissolution and replacement with the Police Service of Northern Ireland PSNI in 2001 and concludes in 2021 to coincide with the centenary of Partition As such this project is distinctive in its ability to trace paradigm shifts in perceptions of the police over time as they intersect with relevant historical events and milestones of political conflict in the province
