Policing The Risk Society:

Policing the Risk Society Richard V. Ericson, Kevin D. Haggerty, 1997-01-01 Ericson and Haggerty contend that the police have become information brokers to institutions such as insurance companies and health and welfare organizations that operate based on a knowledge of risk

Policing the Risk Society Richard Victor Ericson, Kevin D. Haggerty, 1997 The information age has left few of us untouched individuals and institutions alike have undergone radical transformations in the race to get the most out of new technologies The police are no exception Policing the Risk Society introduces us to a shocking new vision of police work in which information gathered by the police with surveillance and data collection technologies is brokered to other institutions Richard Ericson and Kevin Haggerty contend that the police have become information brokers to institutions such as insurance companies and health and welfare organizations whose operations are based on a knowledge of risk These institutions influence the ways in which police officers think and act A critical review of existing research reveals the need to study police interaction with institutions as well as with individuals These institutions are part of an emerging risk society where knowledge of risk is used to control danger The authors examine different aspects of police involvement the use of surveillance technologies and the collection of data on securities careers and different social ethnic age and gender groups They conclude by looking at how police organizations have been forced to bureaucratize and to continually adapt rules formats and technologies of communication to meet external demands for knowledge of risk With this book Ericson and Haggerty revolutionize the study of policing and for the first time provide concrete evidence of the central tenets of risk society theory Their work will have a major impact not only on scholars in criminology social theory and communications but on policing as well Awarded the 1998 Herbert Jacob Book Prize by its Committee of the Law and Society Association University of Massachusetts

Policing the Risk Society Richard Victor Ericson, Kevin D. Haggerty, 1997 The focus of this book is the policing of modern society and the risks involved It explores various issues and factors effecting policing communities particularly communication and police organization

Does Policing the Risk Society Hold the Road Risk? Jérôme Ferret, 2010 Ericson and Haggerty's book Policing the Risk Society 1997 sets out to annul Bittner's classical coercion based reading of the police and replace it with a radically new paradigm that foregrounds the panoptical or knowledge work dimension of the police and its potential to serve the interests of non police social disciplinary institutions In this article we test this neo Foucauldian paradigm on the basis of a body of research into road traffic policing As a result we observe that though non police owner managers of new risks challenge the societal immanence centrality and publicness of police organizations with time these challenges fail We therefore argue that Ericson and Haggerty's notion of panoptical policing should be taken as a theoretical innovation which far from eliminating Bittner's paradigm enhances it with a new force

Understanding the Risk Society Gabriel Mythen, 2017-09-16 In this penetrating account of the impacts of risk on everyday life Gabe Mythen provides a theoretically informed overview of the regulation of crime and security in a globalized world By explicating the relationships between risk and crime security and justice the text applies risk to specific incidents and events scrutinizing social processes and cultural practices and illuminating some of the central social and political issues of the modern age Extending across a range of domains including law the environment media and politics Mythen embarks on a conceptual and critical exploration of risk theory In doing so his incisive text presents both a critical evaluation of the efficacy of competing perspectives on risk and an authoritative appraisal of the place of risk within the social sciences

Effective Police Leadership in the 21st Century Rob Elkington, Christopher D. O'Connor, Tiffany Castell, Les Sylven, 2025-05-01 Effective Police Leadership in the 21st Century New Paradigms for a Novel Context provides a platform and pathway to equip existing and emerging Police leaders with a range of leadership mindsets and skillsets Crime and the Risk Society Pat O'Malley, 1998 The International library of Criminology Criminal Justice and Penology is an important publishing initiative that brings together the most significant contemporary published journal essays in current criminology criminal justice and penology Beyond the Risk Society Gabe Mythen, Sandra Walklate, 2006 Provides an understanding of the relevance and impact of the concept of risk in various subject areas This work is useful for social sciences students in a range of disciplines including sociology criminology cultural studies media studies psychology and social policy

Terrorism, Risk, and the City Jon Coaffee, 2003 The development of defensive strategies encompassing the fortification and privatization of the city has attracted significant attention during recent years and has become particularly relevant in the aftermath of September 11th Dealing with issues of risk security and the spatial restructuring of contemporary western cities this book examines how the perceived risk of terrorist attack led to changes in the physical form and institutional infrastructure of the city of London during the 1990s when the city was a prime terrorist target The book analyses how the various formal and informal strategies adopted in the City attempted to reduce both the physical and financial risk of terrorism This was undertaken through a series of place specific security initiatives and risk management policies which led to increased fortification a substantial rise in terrorism insurance premiums and changing institutional relations at a variety of spatial scales It also argues that the security measures deployed were developed not in terms of an anti terrorist effort but in relation to the unintended by products of these approaches such as crime reduction and enhanced traffic management capabilities Police Science Perspectives Francisco del Barrio Romero, 2009 Due to developments in crime public disorder and society in general police forces across Europe are increasingly confronted with cross border cases As a result the need for police cooperation intensifies and more and more police practice is based on scientific knowledge CEPOL asked a group of experts from six European countries to reflect on these developments Why do senior police officers need research and science What kind of scientific knowledge fits their professional framework How do they make use of it The report including expert commentaries ventures to provide some answers by exploring key questions and aims to open a further discussion about modern day police science and potential paths towards a European approach
