Annual Review of the Sociology of Religion. Volume 4 (2013) , 2013-11-21 Prayer is a phenomenon which seems to be characteristic not only of participants in every religion but also men and women who do not identify with traditional religions It can be practised even by those who do not believe either in a God or transcendent force In this sense therefore we may assert that the prayer is a typically human activity that has accompanied the development of different civilizations over the course of the centuries Both the material issues of concrete daily life as well as more symbolic elements expressed through words gestures body positions and community celebration are brought together in the act of praying Social Media and Elections in Africa, Volume 1 Martin N. Ndlela, Winston Mano, 2020-01-02 This book brings together fresh evidence and new theoretical frameworks in a unique analysis of the increasing role of social media in political campaigns and electoral processes across Africa Supported by contemporary and historical cases studies it engages with the main drives behind the various appropriations of social media for election campaigns organization and voter mobilization Contributors in this volume delve into changing and complex aspects of social media offering an appraisal of theoretical perspectives and examining fascinating case studies which social media use is redefining elections across Africa Contributions show that new media ecologies are resulting in new policy regimes user behaviors and communication models that have implications for electoral processes The book also provides preliminary analysis of emerging forms of algorithm driven campaigns fake news information distortions and other methods that undermine electoral democracy in Africa Annual Review of Gerontology and Geriatrics, Volume 4, 1984 ,1984-01-15 The key to preventing many adult diseases lies in childhood when lifetime patterns of diet exercise and moderation are most often set Authored by an interdisciplinary team including nurses psychologists nutritionists and researchers this book provides a research based examination of the interplay between health and behavior in childhood and adolescence leading to either positive or negative health outcomes It examines issues such as What role does temperament play in at risk behavior How can we improve dietary choices How can we reduce the cycle of physical inactivity leading to obesity What makes some children more prone to substance abuse This book provides a long range perspective on health promotion by examining its roots in the early years of life Resources in Education ,1997
