Political Socialization in the Arab States Tawfic Farah, Yasumasa Kuroda, 1987-01 Political Culture and Conflict Resolution in the Arab World Benjamin MacQueen, 2009-06-15 Benjamin MacQueen presents an innovative and in depth look at contemporary conflict resolution in the Arab Middle East developing a unique theory of political culture through his analysis of peace processes in Lebanon and Algeria Moving beyond conventional perspectives Political Culture and Conflict Resolution in the Arab World highlights that while culture can serve as a key to resolving and transforming conflict if neglected it can act to worsen the conditions that lead to conflict This book represents a critical advance in the study of conflict and its resolution in the Arab World Islamic Studies Series Volume 3 Political Behavior In The Arab States Tawfic E Farah, 2019-07-09 This vivid portrayal of political and social behavior in the Arab states offers new perspectives to the student and scholar of the Middle East It also illustrates the effectiveness of survey research as an analytical tool for investigating political social and economic problems in Arab societies The only book of its kind dealing in a comprehensive and interdisciplinary fashion with the political and social behavior of individuals in the Arab world it fills a gap in the materials available for courses on the Middle East News Media in the Arab World Barrie Gunter, Roger Dickinson, 2013-06-06 News Media in the Arab World A Study of 10 Arab and Muslim Countries is based on ongoing research at the Department of Media and Communication University of Leicester and has investigated the rapidly changing nature of the news media in Arab countries They have investigated the role of newspapers and television in news provision and the impact of new media developments most especially the emergence of the internet as a platform for news distribution and of international satellite television channels such as Al Jazeera Examining the constantly developing nature of news the collection contains separately authored chapters produced by the researchers responsible for each original analysis covering Bahrain Egypt Iraq Kuwait Libya Oman Qatar Palestine Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates Based on original primary and secondary research this will be the first empirical based collection to blend perspectives from both the Western and Arab nations Political Liberalization and Democratization in the Arab World Rex Brynen, Bahgat Korany, Paul Noble, 1995 The Arab world is experiencing a variety of factors internal and external that are leading to change This work examines such factors that are shaping political liberalisation and democratisation in the Arab context as well as the role played by particular social groups Political Transformation of Gulf Tribal States Shaul Yanai, 2014-09-01 The reform movements and attempts to establish parliamentary institutions in the Persian Gulf states of Kuwait Bahrain and Dubai between the First World War and the independent era of the 1970s were not inspired by western example or by any tradition of civil representation The move to a parliamentary system not only represented a milestone in the history of the region creating a legacy for future generations but was a unique transition in the Arab world The transformation of these states from loose chiefdoms of minimal coherence and centralization into centralizing and institutionalized monarchies involved the setting up of primary institutions of government the demarcation of borders and establishment of a monarchical order As this new political and social order evolved ideas of national struggle and national rights penetrated Gulf societies Gulf citizens who had spent time in Arab states mostly in Egypt and Iraq took part in the genesis of a public Arab Gulf national discourse enabling the Gulf population to become acquainted with national struggles for independence As a result merchants of notable families newly educated elements and even workers began to oppose the dominance of the rulers Both the rulers and the commercial elites including members of the ruling families tried to formulate a new and different social contract with the rulers seeking to entrench their political power by using new administrative means and financial power Opposition against this current crystallized in 1938 among the ranks of the commercial oligarchy as well as within the ruling families In spite of its failure to create its own political institutions the oligarchy remained the foremost social and economic class But the ruling families could no longer treat national oil revenues as their private income and they began to channel part of these funds to public needs The most important consequence of the 1938 movement was the formation of a new social contract between the two traditional power centers the governing structures were fitted into the political and economic reality brought about by the oil wealth but remained essentially tribal and committed to the power division between the major Gulf families Arab Education in Transition Byron G. Massialas, Samir Ahmad Jarrar, 2016-03-22 The operation of schools in the Arab world is a topic about which very little is known in the West This volume first published in 1991 provides information about the Arab school and thus contributes to an understanding of what is taught by whom and under what conditions It seeks to define the interaction between traditional elements and innovative forces impinging on the Arab school as well as reviewing policies that concern the education of Arab children It is maintained that Arab schools are in a state of transition reproducing society and its norms on one hand while on the other operating as agents seeking to transform society This work examines this claim in detail providing a unique discussion about education in the Arab world Bureaucracy and Development in the Arab World Jabbra, 2022-04-25 Confidence Building Measures In The Middle East Gabriel Ben-dor, 2019-03-11

Confidence Building Measures CBMs were pioneered in Europe at the height of the Cold War The immediate goal of such measures is to create enough trust between parties in international conflicts to avoid mutually unfavourable sometimes dangerous outcomes due to misunderstandings The long term goal of CBMs is to move the contending parties closer The Search for Arab Democracy Larbi Sadiki, 2004 How to be a democrat and a Muslim at the same time is the subject of ongoing contests This book maps out the variety of voices contesting Islam and democracy in the Arab world insisting that neither category can be taken as unitary or fixed In the Arab Middle East the contest is over which whose and how much democracy takes place within an existing contest over which whose and how much Islam must be given pre eminence in the political and cultural sphere There is a Democracy and there are democracies There is an Islam and there are islams Larbi Sadiki deploys the conceptual tools of contemporary Western political philosophy and theory to articulate and defend some provocative theses The book challenges Eurocentric conceptions of democracy that all too frequently display a lack of concern for specificity and context analyzes and interrogates Orientalist and Occidental discourses on democracy and considers some of the justifications for democracy in the global arena giving space for self representation by women and Islamists among others Using interviews with Muslims from every social and economic stratum the book shows how Arabs themselves understand imagine and view democracy
