Review of Existential Psychology & Psychiatry, 1986      Sartre and Psychology Keith Hoeller, 1983      Readings in Existential Psychology & Psychiatry Keith Hoeller, 1990      Sartre's Philosophy and the Challenge of Education Hayim Gordon, Rivca Gordon, 2001 This study draws on a wide range of Sartre's writings early and late both philosophical and literary to create a Sartre-inspired philosophy of education. It highlights the need to give priority to questioning rather than to passivity, excellence rather than success, the avoidance of a kind of objectivity that precludes making moral judgements and condemning evil.

Simone de Beauvoir Writing the Self Jo-Ann Pilardi, 1999-01-30 The development of Simone de Beauvoir's notion of self in both her philosophical and autobiographical writings is analyzed in this volume. Two ideas of the self are isolated: the existential notion of the self and the gendered self which she developed in The Second Sex and which represents a major departure from existential philosophy. Beginning with a study of her early essays, the author proceeds to discuss Beauvoir's major philosophical works and her autobiographical writings where three personae emerge: the child, the woman in love, and the writer. This analysis highlights the innovative quality of Beauvoir's thought. It also shows that writing an autobiography can be a philosophically inventive enterprise and one in which Beauvoir created her most profound analysis of the self.
