Saul Bellow And The Modern Wasteland:

Saul Bellow and the Modern Wasteland G. Neelakantan, 2000 Reassessing the Twentieth-Century Canon N. Allen, D. Simmons, 2014-06-17 The collection brings together experts in the field of twentieth century writing to provide a volume that is both comprehensive and innovative in its discussion of a set of newly canonical texts The book includes new applications of philosophical and critical thinking to established texts Saul Bellow and the Decline in Humanism Michael K. Glenday, 1990-06-18 This is a study revealing Saul Bellow's views on the decline of humanism With chapters on each of Bellow's novels from Dangling to More Die of Heartbreak the author argues that Bellow's vision of modern American culture denies the possibility of humanist enlightenment for his heroes Wasteland Modernism Rebeca Gualberto Valverde, 2021-09-06 This book proposes a renewed myth critical approach to the so called wasteland modernism of the 1920s to reassess certain key texts of the American modernist canon from a critical prism that offers new perspectives of analysis and interpretation Myth criticism and more specifically the critical survey of myth as an aesthetic and ideological strategy fundamental for the comprehension of modernist literature leads to an engaging discussion about the disenchantment of myth in modernist literary texts This process of mythical disenchantment inextricable from the cultural and historical circumstances that define the modernist zeitgeist offers a possibility for revising from a contemporary standpoint a set of classic texts that are crucial to our understanding of the modern literary tradition in the United States This study carries out an exhaustive and updated myth critical examination of works by T S Eliot John Dos Passos F Scott Fitzgerald Ernest Hemingway John Steinbeck and Djuna Barnes to broaden the scope of familiar themes and archetypes enclosing the textual analysis of these works in a wider exploration about the purpose and functioning of myth in literature particularly in times of crisis and transformation Saul Bellow and American Transcendentalism Mohammad A. Quayum, 2004 Saul Bellow and American Transcendentalism explores Saul Bellow's moral and philosophical affinity with the writers of American transcendentalism especially Emerson and Whitman Its focus is on the vintage Bellow or his mature novels from Henderson the Rain King 1959 to The Dean's December 1982 In these novels Bellow highlights a moral crisis arising from humankind's despiritualization and dehumanization which he believes is responsible for an ongoing dichotomy in the modern world Bellow describes this as a dichotomy of the Cleans and the Dirties in the context of American culture To rectify this dichotomy and redeem humankind from its current death ridden state Bellow and his protagonists advance a vision of life that corresponds to the transcendental vision of dialogue and double consciousness or coordination and balance Like Emerson they advocate The mid world is best A man is a golden impossibility the line he must walk is a hair's breadth Comparable to Whitman they urge the individual to knit the knot of contrariety and act as an arbiter of the diverse

Facing the Abyss George Hutchinson, 2018-01-23 Mythologized as the era of the good war and the Greatest Generation the 1940s are frequently understood as a more heroic uncomplicated time in American history Yet just below the surface a sense of dread alienation and the haunting specter of radical evil permeated American art and literature. Writers returned home from World War II and gave form to their disorienting experiences of violence and cruelty. They probed the darkness that the war opened up and confronted bigotry, existential guilt, ecological concerns, and fear about the nature and survival of the human race. In Facing the Abyss, George Hutchinson offers readings of individual works and the larger intellectual and cultural scene to reveal the 1940s as a period of profound and influential accomplishment. Facing the Abyss examines the relation of aesthetics to politics, the idea of universalism, and the connections among authors across racial, ethnic, and gender divisions. Modernist and avant-garde styles were absorbed into popular culture as writers and artists turned away from social realism to emphasize the process of artistic creation. Hutchinson explores a range of important writers from Saul Bellow and Mary McCarthy to Richard Wright and James Baldwin. African American and Jewish novelists critiqued racism and anti-Semitism; women writers pushed back on the misogyny unleashed during the war; and authors such as Gore Vidal and Tennessee Williams reflected a new openness in the depiction of homosexuality. The decade also witnessed an awakening of American environmental and ecological consciousness. Hutchinson argues that despite the individualized experiences depicted in these works, a common belief in art's ability to communicate the universal in particulars united the most important works of literature and art during the 1940s. Hutchinson's capacious view of American literary and cultural history masterfully weaves together a wide range of creative and intellectual expression into a sweeping new narrative of this pivotal decade.
