Eisig Silberschlag, 1968 The Routledge Encyclopedia of Jewish Writers of the Twentieth Century Sorrel Kerbel, 2004-11-23 Now available in paperback for the first time Jewish Writers of the Twentieth Century is both a comprehensive reference resource and a springboard for further study This volume examines canonical Jewish writers less well known authors of Yiddish and Hebrew and emerging Israeli writers includes entries on figures as diverse as Marcel Proust Franz Kafka Tristan Tzara Eugene Ionesco Harold Pinter Tom Stoppard Arthur Miller Saul Bellow Nadine Gordimer and Woody Allen contains introductory essays on Jewish American writing Holocaust literature and memoirs Yiddish writing and Anglo Jewish literature provides a chronology of twentieth century Jewish writers Compiled by expert contributors this book contains over 330 entries on individual authors each consisting of a biography a list of selected publications a scholarly essay on their work and suggestions for further reading The Seductiveness of Jewish Myth S. Daniel Breslauer, 2012-02-01 The Seductiveness of Jewish Myth offers a panorama of diverse definitions of myth understandings of Judaism and competing evaluations of the mythic element in religion The contributors focus on the problem of defining myth as a category in religious studies examine modern religion and the role of myth in a secularized world and look at specific cases of Jewish myth from biblical through modern times Modern Jewish Literatures Sheila E. Jelen, Michael P. Kramer, L.
Scott Lerner, 2011-06-06 Is there such a thing as a distinctive Jewish literature While definitions have been offered none has been universally accepted Modern Jewish literature lacks the basic markers of national literatures it has neither a common geography nor a shared language though works in Hebrew or Yiddish are almost certainly included and the field is so diverse that it cannot be contained within the bounds of one literary category Each of the fifteen essays collected in Modern Jewish Literatures takes on the above question by describing a movement across boundaries between languages cultures genres or spaces Works in Hebrew and Yiddish are amply represented but works in English French German Italian Ladino and Russian are also considered Topics range from the poetry of the Israeli nationalist Natan Alterman to the Russian poet Osip Mandelstam from turn of the century Ottoman Jewish journalism to wire recorded Holocaust testimonies from the intellectual salons of late eighteenth century Berlin to the shelves of a Jewish bookstore in twentieth century Los Angeles The literary world described in Modern Jewish Literatures is demarcated chronologically by the Enlightenment the Haskalah and the French Revolution on one end and the fiftieth anniversary of the State of Israel on the other The particular terms of the encounter between a Jewish past and present for modern Jews has varied greatly by continent country or village by language and by social standing among other things What unites the subjects of these studies is not a common ethnic religious or cultural history but rather a shared endeavor to use literary production and writing in general as the laboratory in which to explore and represent Jewish experience in the modern world The Diary of Dawid Sierakowiak Dawid Sierakowiak,1998 Presents diary entries that document the author's experiences during the Nazi persecution of Jews in Poland Saul Tchernichovsky Eisig Silberschlag,Saul Tchernichowsky,1968 Theological Stains Assaf Shelleg,2020 In this in depth study of Israeli art music in the second half of the twentieth century author Assaf Shelleg explores how art music and modern Hebrew literature engaged with Zionism and competing diasporic Jewish histories that are not grounded in notions of territory The Middle East and North Africa Florian Zemmin,Negin Yavari,Markus Dressler,Nurit Stadler,2024-12-16 This volume collects reflections on secularity from the Middle East and North Africa To highlight proximate connections as well as resonances with debates elsewhere it includes premodern contributions from the region as well as Jewish thought from Europe that have provided significant references for modern appropriations of secularity The texts for the most part previously untranslated reflect commonalities within the region as well as its great diversity Thus while Islam is a common reference for most of our authors the selections point to its varied invocations in the interest of differing political ends Others write from a Christian or Jewish perspective or subscribe to non religious intellectual traditions They range from premodern Muslim jurists and philosophers to Ottoman statesmen Arab socialist and nationalist intellectuals of the interwar period Iranian revolutionaries Israeli novelists and finally post secular intellectuals lay and religious predominantly from the former Islamic heartland modern Arab states and Iran Several introductions weave together the swathe of topics raised in the discussions beginning with a schematic presentation of the concerns that undergird the volume's organization The Jews in Poland and Russia Antony Polonsky,2010-06-17 A comprehensive survey socio political economic and religious of Jewish life in Poland and Russia Wherever possible contemporary Jewish writings are used to illustrate how Jews felt and reacted to new situations and ideas History of the Literary Cultures of East-Central Europe Marcel Cornis-Pope,John Neubauer,2006-09-13 Continuing the work undertaken in Vol 1 of the History of the Literary Cultures of East Central Europe Vol 2 considers various topographic sites multicultural cities border areas cross cultural corridors multiethnic regions that cut across national boundaries rendering them permeable to the flow of hybrid cultural messages By focusing on the literary cultures of specific geographical locations this volume intends to put into practice a new type of comparative study Traditional comparative literary studies establish transnational comparisons and contrasts but thereby reconfirm however inadvertently the very national borders they play down This volume inverts the expansive momentum of comparative studies towards ever broader regional European and world literary histories While the theater of this volume is still the literary culture of East Central Europe the contributors focus on pinpointed local traditions and geographic nodal points Their histories of Riga Plovdiv Timișoara or Budapest of Transylvania or the Danube corridor to take a few examples reveal how each of these sites was during the last two hundred years a home for a variety of foreign or ethnic literary traditions next to the one now dominant within the national borders By foregrounding such non national or hybrid traditions this volume pleads for a diversification and pluralization of local and national histories A genuine comparatist revival of literary history should involve the recognition that treading on native grounds means actually treading on grounds cultivated by diverse people
