The National Uncanny Ren e L. Bergland, 2015-05-01 Although spectral Indians appear with startling frequency in US literary works until now the implications of describing them as ghosts have not been thoroughly investigated In the first years of nationhood Philip Freneau and Sarah Wentworth Morton peopled their works with Indian phantoms as did Charles Brocken Brown Washington Irving Samuel Woodworth Lydia Maria Child James Fenimore Cooper William Apress Nathaniel Hawthorne and others who followed During the late 19th and early 20th centuries Native American ghosts figured prominently in speeches attributed to Chief Seattle Black Elk and Kicking Bear Today Stephen King and Leslie Marmon Silko plot best selling novels around ghostly Indians and haunted Indian burial grounds Ren e L Bergland argues that representing Indians as ghosts internalizes them as ghostly figures within the white imagination Spectralization allows white Americans to construct a concept of American nationhood haunted by Native Americans in which Indians become sharers in an idealized national imagination However the problems of spectralization are clear since the discourse questions the very nationalism it constructs Indians who are transformed into ghosts cannot be buried or evaded and the specter of their forced disappearance haunts the American imagination Indian ghosts personify national guilt and horror as well as national pride and pleasure Bergland tells the story of a terrifying and triumphant American aesthetic that repeatedly transforms horror into glory national dishonor into national pride

Fictions of the Black Atlantic in American Foundational Literature Gesa Mackenthun,2004-08-02 This book is a significant contribution to existing research on the themes of race and slavery in the founding literature of the United States It extends the boundaries of existing research by locating race and slavery within a transnational and oceanic framework The author applies critical concepts developed within postcolonial theory to American texts written between the national emergence of the United States and the Civil War in order to uncover metaphors of the colonial and imperial unconscious in America's foundational writing The book analyses the writings of canonized authors such as Charles Brockden Brown James Fenimore Cooper Edgar Allan Poe and Herman Melville alongside those of lesser known writers like Olaudah Equiano Royall Tyler Frederick Douglass Martin Delany and Maxwell Philip and situates them within the colonial and postcolonial context of the slave based economic system of the Black Atlantic While placing the transatlantic slave trade on the map of American Studies and viewing it in conjunction with American imperial ambitions in the Pacific Fictions of the Black Atlantic in American Foundational Literature also adds a historical dimension to present discussions about the ambivalence of postcoloniality
