Savage Civilisation:

The Story of New Zealand : Past and Present - Savage and Civilized Arthur S. Thomson, 1859      Empire's Children Ellen Boucher, 2014-03-13 A definitive history of child emigration across the British Empire from the 1860s to its decline in the 1960s      On the Origin of Civilisation and the Primitive Condition of Man John Lubbock, 1867      The Empire of Civilization Brett Bowden, 2009-08-01 The term civilization comes with considerable baggage dichotomizing people cultures and histories as civilized or not While the idea of civilization has been deployed throughout history to justify all manner of interventions and sociopolitical engineering few scholars have stopped to consider what the concept actually means Here Brett Bowden examines how the idea of civilization has informed our thinking about international relations over the course of ten centuries From the Crusades to the colonial era to the global war on terror this sweeping volume exposes civilization as a stage managed account of history that legitimizes imperialism uniformity and conformity to Western standards culminating in a liberal democratic global order Along the way Bowden explores the variety of confrontations and conquests as well as those peoples and places excluded or swept aside undertaken in the name of civilization Concluding that the West and the rest have more commonalities than differences this provocative and engaging book ultimately points the way toward an authentic intercivilizational dialogue that emphasizes cooperation over clashes      The Origin of Civilisation and the Primitive Condition of Man Sir John Lubbock, 1902      The Origin of Civilisation and the Primitive Condition of Man John Lubbock, 2014-01-23 A student of Darwin John Lubbock applied evolutionary theory to the development of human civilisations in this influential 1870 publication      Barbarism and Religion: Volume 4, Barbarians, Savages and Empires J. G. A. Pocock, 2005-10-27 Barbarism and Religion Edward Gibbon's own phrase is the title of a sequence of works by John Pocock designed to situate Gibbon and his Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire in a series of contexts in the history of eighteenth century Europe In the fourth volume in the sequence first published in 2005 Pocock argues that barbarism was central to the history of western historiography to the history of the Enlightenment and to Edward Gibbon himself As a concept it was deeply problematic to Enlightened historians seeking to understand their own civilised societies in the light of exposure to newly discovered civilisations which were until then beyond the reach of history itself      The Origin of Civilisation and the Primitive Condition of Man John Lubbock Avebury (1st baron), Sir John Lubbock, 1912      On the Origin of Civilisation Paul Cullen, 1854      The Origin of Civilisation and the Primitive Condition of Man John Lubbock, 1875      Race and British Colonialism in Southeast Asia, 1770-1870 Gareth Knapman, 2016-10-14 This book explores colonial debates on race liberalism colonial expansion and equality in South East Asia focusing on the writings of John Crawfurd one of the British Empire's leading racial theorists and colonial administrators in Asia      The Most Offending Soul Alive Judith M. Heimann, 1999-11-01 An English eccentric and adventurer Tom Harrisson 1911-1976 sought knowledge and renown in a dizzying number of fields while breaking most of the rules of civilized society He was a precursor in the field of modern market research he won the DSO for his World War II service in Borneo he led efforts to save the orangutan the green sea turtle and other endangered species he discovered the oldest modern human skull known at the time This hugely enjoyable story of Harrison s extravagant controversial life offers a sympathetic and insightful look at a charismatic figure who offended as many people as he impressed at the twilight of colonialism on the fringes of the British empire

A Short Defence of Religion Giuseppe Ballerini,1910

The Mass Observers James Hinton,2013-03-14 This is the first full scale history of Mass Observation the independent social research organisation which between 1937 and 1949 set out to document the attitudes opinions and every day lives of the British people Through a combination of anthropological fieldwork opinion surveys and written testimony solicited from hundreds of volunteers Mass Observation created a huge archive of popular life during a tumultuous decade which remains central to British national identity The social history of these years has been immeasurably enriched by the archive and extracts from the writings of M O s volunteers have won a wide and admiring audience Now James Hinton whose acclaimed Nine Wartime Lives demonstrated how the intensely personal writing of some of M O s volunteers could be used to shed light on broader historical issues has written a wonderfully vivid and evocative account which does justice not only to the two founders whose tempestuous relationship dominated the early years of Mass Observation but also to the dozens of creative and imaginative and until now largely unknown young enthusiasts whose work helped to keep the show on the road The history of the organisation itself the staff the research methods the struggle for funding M O s characteristic voice and its role in the cultural and political life of the period are themselves as interesting as any of the themes that the founders set out to document This long awaited and deeply researched history corrects and revises much of our existing knowledge of Mass Observation opens up new and important perspectives on the organisation and will be seen as the authoritative account for years to come

Writing, Travel and Empire Peter Hulme,Russell McDougall,2007-08-29 The British Empire drew on the talents of many remarkable figures whose lives reveal a wonderfully rich involvement with the crucial issues of the period In many cases they left a legacy of travel writing novels biography and ethnography which made important contributions to our knowledge of other cultures Writing Travel and Empire explores the lives and writings of eight such figures including Sir George Grey Gertrude Bell Sir Hugh Clifford and Roger Casement All travelled the Empire from Grey the renowned colonial governor who undertook dangerous journeys to the interior of Australia to Tom Harrison the emaciated polymath war hero and Arctic explorer whose time in the New Hebrides embraced both cannibalistic rituals and a meeting with film legend Douglas Fairbanks Sr who sought Harrison out for a Hollywood feature about savage life All saw themselves as writers despite their very different approaches and interests and each was writing against a backdrop of the impending disappearance of indigenous cultures around the world Writing from the margins of what was shortly to become the more formalised discipline of anthropology their work yields interesting insights into both the issues of empire and the ways in which academic disciplines define the boundaries of their subject Embracing themes such as gender and travel racial science the globalisation of native management and the internal colonies and with a geographical coverage that extends from South America to Russia via Africa and the South Seas Writing Travel and Empire will engage all those with an interest in cultural geography anthropology history postcolonial studies biography and travel writing History of Religion Allan Menzies,2020-08-15 Reproduction of the original History of Religion by Allan Menzies Report of the Annual Meeting British Association for the Advancement of Science.
