

AN INTELLIGENT UNIVERSE

In the vastness of the universe, our planet seems unique, perfectly suitable for the development of life, humanity, and civilization. What amazing processes led to this earth as we know it? Are these processes still at play, and where might we be headed?

An Intelligent Universe is a study of the logic of the development of nature. In his first English publication, Z. Ding explores the dynamics of celestial, planetary, and organic evolution, guiding the reader to understand our world and existence from a perspective enlightened by a combination of naturalism and Chinese thought.

Ramana Maharshis Philosophy Of Existence And Modern Science The Convergence In Their Vision Of Reality

J. Sithamparanathan, 2008 This book will be of profound interest to readers who are in search of a philosophy of life beyond empty materialism and to those who seek to base their religious faith on a scientific and rational foundation The in depth treatment of the convergence between the vision of Reality emerging from modern scientific research and the vision of reality revealed by the mystics and sages from ancient times will convince all rational readers that there is now no conflict between science and true spirituality The book has special significance in the modern world where the secular and the spiritual need to be balanced both at the personal as well as the national level if peace fulfillment and harmony are to prevail Its non controversial vision of Reality can also serve to meet the need to unify and harmonize the different religions another need of the hour     Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1991     Making Arguments Edmond H. Weiss, Steven M.

Weiss, 2012-04-24 Making Arguments Reason in Context offers a new approach to the teaching of argumentation and debate Nearly all argumentation courses and textbooks tilt toward one of two extremes Critical thinking informal logic in which the laws of reasoning are universal and not affected by audience or context Public speaking in which adaptation to the audience and winning assent trumps logic and reasoning At the first extreme are texts that stress flaws in arguments and how to discern them Their focus tends to be on the logic making deductive inferences and avoiding deductive mistakes or other errors of inference and or the recognition of fallacies deficient or fake arguments They also deal with the messy ambiguities of language Generally this approach omits the concept of an audience And it does not explain how spotting the flaws in reasoning or improving one's reasoning translates into the ability to make an effective argument Further it is not clear how to address audiences whose grasp of logic is shaky At the other extreme are books especially public speaking textbooks that err in the opposite direction They are fixated on audience As a result their advice about how to argue is grounded in audience adaptation In fact the process of reasoning is nearly subordinated to such secondary considerations as style delivery and organization And again the connection between critical thinking logic and audience is rarely examined In Making Arguments we propose to consider argument at the nexus of invention and judgment the two endpoints from which logic and public speaking examine argumentation respectively By looking at the stuff that comes between an argument's design and its delivery we hope to enrich the understanding and the study of argument as both a theoretical and applied discipline In particular we want to answer some questions that are seldom addressed in print What is the starting point for argumentation When do we even need to argue When should one embrace and when should one avoid arguing Why does the same argument work in one place and fail in another Are most audiences capable of understanding a complex argument With what authority can one make an argument absent expertise in the field in which the argument takes place Are there substantive differences between oral and written argument What does it mean to present an argument Can someone control the argumentative situation context to the benefit of his her position How can argument educate and improve the arguer Can we learn the truth by arguing This book addresses the whole advocacy process as a series of concatenated intellectual decisions affecting how arguments are created ordered rendered and produced with judgment as the over arching concern Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists ,1979-03 The Science of Mind: The Complete Original 1926 Edition -- The Classic Handbook to a Life of Possibilities Ernest Holmes,2022-11-08 Unlock the extraordinary power of your mind Includes additional bonus material The Science of The Mind is a classic self empowerment book that has changed the way countless people think of their own agency reconnecting them with their inherent mental strength and allowing them to reach their full potential In The Science of Mind author Ernest Holmes teaches readers how the force of their minds through prayer intention and meditation can create real and lasting change in their physical material and emotional circumstances Born in 1887 Holmes was the founder of Religious Science a key part of the New Thought movement Based on the ideas and principles in The Science of Mind he established what would later come to be called the Centers for Spiritual Living which continue to thrive in the United States and throughout the world In addition to The Science of Mind this new version also includes What Religious Science Teaches which expands on the key themes of Holmes s work This edition is part of The GPS Good Practical Simple Guides to Life which bring classic self help and success titles to a new generation of readers Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff,Staff Bowker, Ed,2004 Roots in Universal History Rolf A.
