Harlan, 2019-04-08 If Ray Bradbury and Douglas Adams collaborated on writing they'd present something like this incredible collection of science fiction short stories Have you ever wondered what an alien abduction is like from the alien's viewpoint Can a dying woman receive solace and comfort from a machine What would it be like to fall into the hands of a get rich quick scheming extraterrestrial All these questions and more are answered in this book of wonderfully crafted short stories by breakout author J J Harlan Ranging from achingly beautiful to uproariously hilarious this remarkable compilation of stories will evoke nostalgic feelings of the golden days of science fiction when the promises of the future mingled with the pains of the human present They will both remind you of the classic shorts you know and love and turn sci fi comedy tropes inside out and upside down Buy now you'll be glad you did Aliens R Us Ziauddin Sardar, Sean Cubitt, 2002-02-20 This book explores the global culture of science fiction cinema and in particular its presentation of contemporary images of the Other Taking as a starting point the popularity of international forms such as Japanese anime and Hong Kong sci fi in addition to the success of films such as The Matrix and television series such as Deep Space Nine the contributors examine the science fiction genre as an international populist form of social analysis In doing so they discuss issues such as Orientalism technology apocalyptic futures xenophobia militarism and the role of women Most contemporary studies look at the generic characteristics of science fiction with its allegorical rendering of contemporary life usually in relation to America Case studies include Independence Day Star Trek First Contact and Until the End of the World in addition to chapters on Eco Apocalypse and new French sci fi and New Manchester Ecstasy sci fi Islam, Science Fiction and Extraterrestrial Life Jörg Matthias Determann, 2020-09-17 The Muslim world is not commonly associated with science fiction Religion and repression have often been blamed for a perceived lack of creativity imagination and future oriented thought However even the most authoritarian Muslim majority countries have produced highly imaginative accounts on one of the frontiers of knowledge astrobiology or the study of life in the universe This book argues that the Islamic tradition has been generally supportive of conceptions of extra terrestrial life and in this engaging account J rg Matthias Determann provides a survey of Arabic Bengali Malay Persian Turkish and Urdu texts and films to show how scientists and artists in and from Muslim majority countries have been at the forefront of the exciting search Determann takes us to little known dimensions of Muslim culture and religion such as wildly popular adaptations of Star Wars and mysterious movements centred on UFOs Repression is shown to have helped science fiction more than hurt it with censorship encouraging authors to disguise criticism of contemporary politics by setting plots in future times and on distant planets The book will be insightful for anyone looking to explore the science culture and politics of the Muslim world and asks what the discovery of extra terrestrial life would mean for one of the greatest faiths Science Fiction, Alien Encounter Frank Northen Magill,1981 Presents 2 000 word analyses on 75 literary works dealing with meetings between humans and extraterrestrial intelligent beings
