Dejean,2009-04 As I go back to the first blog that I released into cyberspace I discover that the date was May 27 2005 and the title was It s Beyond Me As I scan forward through all the postings I find that two major themes have developed synergistically 1 That segment of the formal religious establishment described loosely by the term church is under stress The extreme nature of this stress is demonstrated by the current often quoted fearsome phrase The Church must change or it will die 2 The most frequently offered response to this dilemma is the admonition We must think beyond the box Pragmatism indicates that The Church must change or it will die phrase is hopelessly destructive Might this prediction be more approachable if rephrased as The Church must morph then survive Survival indicates that it is essential that we determine what it is in the box that we must think beyond What should be changed so that our belief systems can morph thus equipping the church to morph to survival It is my conclusion that my past conceptualizations of God my core beliefs have been formed by inhibiting Climates of Cultures deposited in the box over the ages in an attempt to make God comprehensible It is my emerging discovery that when we think beyond the box we recognize the Atmosphere of Possibilities the Incomprehensible God of the Universe Though our core beliefs may differ we all should be encouraged to hold beliefs that give us the joy of being response able to Incomprehensible God the Atmosphere of Possibilities and responsible to with comprehensible humanity including ourselves

Mark Twain's Speeches Mark Twain, 1910 These Mark Twain speeches will address themselves to the minds and hearts of those who read them but not with the effect they had with those who heard them Clemens himself would have said not with half the effect I have noted elsewhere how he always held that the actor doubled the value of the author's words and he was a great actor as well as a great author In the words of author William Dean Howells These speeches will address themselves to the minds and hearts of those who read them but not with the effect they had with those who heard them Clemens himself would have said not with half the effect I have noted elsewhere how he always held that the actor doubled the value of the author's words and he was a great actor as well as a great author He was a most consummate actor with this difference from other actors that he was the first to know the thoughts and invent the fancies to which his voice and action gave the color of life Representation is the art of other actors his art was creative as well as representative it was nothing at second hand I never heard Clemens speak when I thought he quite failed some burst or spurt redeemed him when he seemed flagging short of the goal and whoever else was in the running he came in ahead His near failures were the error of a rare trust to the spontaneity in which other speakers confide or are believed to confide when they are on their feet He knew that from the beginning of oratory the orator's spontaneity was for the silence and solitude of the closet where he mused his words to an imagined audience that this was the use of orators from Demosthenes and Cicero up and down He studied every word and syllable and memorized them by a system of mnemonics peculiar to himself consisting of an arbitrary arrangement of things on a table knives forks salt cellars inkstands pens boxes or whatever was at hand which stood for points and clauses and climaxes and were at once indelible diction and constant suggestion He studied every tone and every gesture and he forecast the result with the real audience from its result with that imagined audience Therefore it was beautiful to see him and to hear him he rejoiced in the pleasure
