Sentimental Education Schooling Popular Culture And The Regulation Of Liberty:

Sentimental Education James Donald, 1992-05-17 What sort of institution is education In this iconoclastic study James Donald restores the school to its proper place at the heart of post Enlightenment culture and politics He traces the emergence of education as an apparatus designed forlornly to shape the souls of citizens He also draws illuminating analogies between education and broadcasting showing how both conjure up publics and structure the everyday lives of individuals To balance this focus on the institution of cultural norms Donald emphasizes the dynamics of fantasy and desire in their negotiation He therefore juxtaposes the normative practices of education and broadcasting against more transgressive forms of popular culture pornography racist thrillers like Fu Manchu vampire films and what he calls the vulgar sublime Finally drawing on postmodern debates about community and democracy he sketches a context for reforms in broadcasting and presents a provocative alternative to orthodox progressive ideas about education from the primary school to the university

Film Style and the World War II Combat Genre Stuart Bender, 2014-08-11 Film Style and the World War II Combat Genre is a detailed examination of the stylistic means by which filmmakers depict stories of combat The work furthers contemporary discussions by analyzing a range of World War II combat films to a degree of detail which has previously escaped critical attention This substantial examination of cinematography sound editing and acting in a range of movies including Saving Private Ryan Windtalkers Bataan and Objective Burma demonstrates the importance of close attention to the textual construction of these films specifically as well as cinematic texts more generally The work advances the original analytic descriptions of controlled spontaneity and reported realism as theoretical concepts which explain why viewers regard certain stylistic techniques as realistic This notion of realism is then further understood through reference to a body of research in cognitive psychology to argue that the density of audio visual information in contemporary combat films is a significant factor in creating a sense of realism

Lacan and Education Policy Matthew Clarke, 2019-06-13 Lacan and Education Policy draws on the rich conceptual resources of Lacanian psychoanalysis Using Lacan's four discourses Matthew Clarke offers a sophisticated critique of recent education policy and the neoliberal model of political economy within which it sits including the ways in which education has been diminished and trivialised through the economistic and depoliticising moves of policy Clarke articulates possibilities for thinking differently about education and education policy beyond the reductive narratives of neoliberalism He argues that psychoanalytic theory is valuable not so much for allowing us to see what education really is but for offering insights into what prevents education from being enabling us to shift our focus instead into the possibilities education offers as a space of becoming The book suggests possibilities for conceptualising and creating the other side of education
