lives A few sermons there are a very few that so grasp the heart truths in their universal forms as to be interesting and powerful alike in every age But few good sermons can live longer than the generation for which they were made The true preacher is to be eminently a man of his own time He is to be in sympathy not with ideas and truths alone but with living men To know merely what men thought a hundred years ago to be learned only in the things that men wanted in other ages is to be but a pulpit antiquary The printing press may preach essays The pulpit is for living truth aimed at living men No matter if sermons are transient in their effects So are drops of rain But in both cases shower follows shower and while no one drop endures the vegetable kingdom grows and thrives through all ages Sermons perish but men live It is a token for good when so many are interested in reading sermons that publishers find it for their interest to spread them abroad I shall be glad indeed if these discourses prepared for my own congregation and preached week by week from my own pulpit shall be to others far away both food and medicine About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
