together essays from a wide range of scholars in a number of countries including China Japan Korea Singapore and the United States Crossing Oceans focuses on strategies for critically reading and teaching American literature especially ethnic American literature within the Asia Pacific region This book will be an important tool for scholars and teachers from around the globe who desire fresh perspectives on American literature from a variety of national contexts The contributors use perspectives dealing with race feminism cultural geography and structures of power as lenses through which to interpret texts and engage students critical thinking The collection is crossing oceans through the transnational perspectives of the contributors who come from and or teach at colleges and universities in both Asia and the United States Many of the essays reveal how narratives of and about ethnic Americans can be used to redefine and reconfigure not only American literary studies but also constructions of Asian and American identities Crossing Borders, Reinforcing Borders Pablo

Vila,2013-08-28 Along the U S Mexico frontier where border crossings are a daily occurrence for many people reinforcing borders is also a common activity Not only does the U S Border Patrol strive to hold the line against illegal immigrants but many residents on both sides of the border seek to define and bound themselves apart from groups they perceive as others This pathfinding ethnography charts the social categories metaphors and narratives that inhabitants of El Paso and Ciudad Juarez use to define their group identity and distinguish themselves from others Pablo Vila draws on over 200 group interviews with more than 900 area residents to describe how Mexican nationals Mexican immigrants Mexican Americans African Americans and Anglos make sense of themselves and perceive their differences from others This research uncovers the regionalism by which many northern Mexicans construct their sense of identity the nationalism that often divides Mexican Americans from Mexican nationals and the role of ethnicity in setting boundaries among Anglos Mexicans and African Americans Vila also looks at how gender age religion and class intertwine with these factors He concludes with fascinating excerpts from re interviews with several informants who modified their views of other groups when confronted by the author with the narrative character of their identities Crossing Roads Thomas James,2013-11-27 Eighteen year old Elizabeth receives an unexpected phone call from an old friend Michael who she knew in high school and had since moved away inviting her to a wedding Although her father forbids her to go she packs for a weekend trip to New York Before she leaves her home in Pennsylvania her father tells her if she leaves don t even think about coming home again Despite her troubling mind Elizabeth has a good time meeting Michael s family and is treated like a new addition which ruffles the feathers of the new Brides Michael and Elizabeth experience their first sexual encounter that night and Michael knows he can not let this girl walk out of his life and asks Elizabeth to live with him Knowing she can not go home and falling in love with Michael she accepts The young couple begins a journey through a new life together www.thomasjames.com Friends Journal ,1969
