Llewellyn, Alexander Freund, Nolan Reilly, 2015-06-01 Despite a long and rich tradition of oral history research few are aware of the innovative and groundbreaking work of oral historians in Canada For this first primer on the practices within the discipline the editors of The Canadian Oral History Reader have gathered some of the best contributions from a diverse field Essays survey and explore fundamental and often thorny aspects in oral history methodology interpretation preservation and presentation and advocacy In plain language they explain how to conduct research with indigenous communities navigate difficult relationships with informants and negotiate issues of copyright slander and libel The authors ask how people s memories and stories can be used as historical evidence and whether it is ethical to use them at all Their detailed and compelling case studies draw readers into the thrills and predicaments of recording people s most intimate experiences and refashioning them in transcripts and academic analyses They also consider how to best present and preserve this invaluable archive of Canadian memories The Canadian Oral History Reader provides a rich resource for community and university researchers undergraduate and graduate students and independent scholars and documentarians and serves as a springboard and reference point for global discussions about Canadian contributions to the international practice of oral history Contributors include Brian Calliou independent scholar Elise Chenier Simon Fraser University Julie Cruikshank University of British Columbia Alexander Freund University of Winnipeg Steven High Concordia University Nancy Janovicek University of Calgary Jill Jarvis Tonus independent scholar Kristina R Llewellyn Renison University College University of Waterloo Bronwen Low McGill University Claudia Malacrida University of Lethbridge Joy Parr Western University Joan Sangster Trent University Emmanuelle Sonntag Universit du Qu bec Montr al Pamela Sugiman Toronto Metropolitan University Winona Wheeler University of Saskatchewan and Stacey Zembrzycki Concordia University A Communist for the RCMP Dennis Gruending, In 1941 the RCMP recruited Frank Hadesbeck a Spanish Civil War veteran as a paid informant to infiltrate the Communist Party For decades he informed not only upon communists but also upon hundreds of other people who held progressive views Hadesbeck s Watch Out lists on behalf of the Security Service included labour activists medical doctors lawyers university professors and students journalists Indigenous and progressive farm leaders members of the clergy and anyone involved in the peace and human rights movements Defying every warning given to him by his handlers Hadesbeck kept secret notes Using these notes author Dennis Gruending recounts how the RCMP spied upon thousands of Canadians Hadesbeck s life and career are in the past but RCMP surveillance continues in new guises As Canada s petroleum industry doubles down on its extraction plans in the oil sands and elsewhere the RCMP and other state agencies provide support routinely branding Indigenous land defenders and their allies in the environmental movement as potential terrorists They share information and tactics with petroleum industry stakeholders in what has been described as a surveillance web intended to suppress dissent A Communist for the RCMP provides an inside account of Hadesbeck s career and illustrates how the RCMP uses surveillance of activists to enforce the status quo Oral History Off the Record A. Sheftel, S. Zembrzycki, 2013-09-11 Because oral history interviews are personal interactions between human beings they rarely conform to a methodological ideal These reflections from oral historians provide honest and rigorous analyses of actual oral history practice that address the complexities of a human centered methodology Raising the Workers' Flag Stephen Lyon Endicott, 2012-01-01 The Workers Unity League WUL occupies a storied place in Canadian labour history In the bleak early years of the Great Depression as jobs vanished wages sank and unions stood transfixed a small but feisty organization ix exploded onto industrial Canada and by force of sheer political will it seems rallied an array of workers in heroic battle against some of the most recalcitrant employers in the country Tales of these conflicts particularly those in small centres such as Bienfait Flin Flon and Stratford or in the woods of Vancouver Island or the mining communities of the Crowsnest Pass are staples of labour history in this country and provide classic vignettes of class struggle at its rawest The On to Ottawa Trek the culmination of WUL organizing in the relief camps represents in many a Canadian history survey the denouement of a narrative of social tensions stretched to the breaking point at mid decade Whatever one thinks of the wisdom of the WUL s actions and historians views are varied the organization is credited with reigniting working class resistance and with training a new generation of labour and political activists Raising the Workers Flag Stephen L Endicott s engaging and well researched history of the WUL skilfully conveys the breadth and the intensity of the movement through its short history The Fate of Labour Socialism James Naylor, 2016-01-01 Almost a century before the New Democratic Party rode the first orange wave their predecessors imagined a movement that could rally Canadians against economic insecurity win access to necessary services such as health care and confront the threat of war The party they built during the Great Depression the Co operative Commonwealth Federation CCF permanently transformed the country s politics Past histories have described the CCF as social democrats guided by middle class intellectuals a party which shied away from labour radicalism and communist agitation James Naylor s assiduous research tells a very different story a CCF created by working class activists steeped in Marxist ideology who sought to create a movement that would be both loyal to its socialist principles and appealing to the wider electorate The Fate of Labour Socialism is a fundamental reexamination of the CCF and Canadian working class politics in the 1930s one that will help historians better understand Canada s political intellectual and labour history
