The Resurrection of the Body in Western Christianity, 200-1336 Caroline Walker Bynum, 2017-11-21 A classic of medieval studies The Resurrection of the Body in Western Christianity 200 1336 traces ideas of death and resurrection in early and medieval Christianity Caroline Walker Bynum explores problems of the body and identity in devotional and theological literature suggesting that medieval attitudes toward the body still shape modern notions of the individual This expanded edition includes her 1995 article Why All the Fuss About the Body A Medievalist's Perspective which takes a broader perspective on the book's themes It also includes a new introduction that explores the context in which the book and article were written as well as why the Middle Ages matter for how we think about the body and life after death today Light to the Isles Douglas Dales, 2010-10-29 In this book Dales succeeds in shedding new light on the theological approach to the evangelism of The British Isles and the work of missionaries to and from the British Isles in the Western church throughout the period 400 800 AD Although the historical value of the literary texts analysed is substantial this study gives them an inherent theology pre eminence This reprint is thus an examination of particular people and the beliefs they shared with those who remembered them and who caused these texts to be written Through these pages we discover that the origin of hagiographical literature in this specific area comes from a remote and singular period when the memory of the Roman era and of the church fathers was ever present It was because of the barbarous condition that the Church faced that the stream that fought to keep Latin Christian culture alive to nurture monastic education missionary activity and the ascetic cultivation of sanctity remained hidden St Augustine and His Opponents J. Baun, M. Vincent, 2010-05-05 Papers presented at the Fifteenth International Conference on Patristic Studies held in Oxford 2007 see also Studia Patristica 44 45 46 47 and 48 The successive sets of Studia Patristica contain papers delivered at the International Conferences on Patristic Studies which meet for a week once every four years in Oxford they are held under the aegis of the Theology Faculty of the University Members of these conferences come from all over the world and most offer papers These range over the whole field both East and West from the second century to a section on the Nachleben of the Fathers The majority are short papers dealing with some small and manageable point they raise and sometimes resolve questions about the authenticity of documents dates of events and such like and some unveil new texts The smaller number of longer papers put such matters into context and indicate wider trends The whole reflects the state of Patristic scholarship and demonstrates the vigour and popularity of the subject Tradition and Theology in St John Cassian A. M. C. The Omnipresence of Jesus Christ Theodore Zachariades,2015-06-01 This important book reassesses the classic Chalcedonian view of Jesus one person two natures It carefully rejects all forms of kenotic Christology and affirms that Jesus possessed and used all the divine attributes in particular that of omnipresence arguing that evangelical scholars have abandoned this important truth This has ramifications for our view of the Holy Spirit and of Christ's presence with his people. It challenges us to read the Scriptures again and to live in the presence of Jesus. Publisher's Commendation: In this important study of orthodox Christology, Dr. Zachariades develops an aspect of it that has generally been neglected: How should we understand the universal presence of the risen, ascended, and glorified Christ? Starting with the controversies of the early church, he takes us through the questions involved in the discussion and points us to a deeper understanding of how Christ is both God and man at the same time. Gerald L. Bray, Research Professor of Divinity, History, and Doctrine, Beeson Divinity School, USA.
