Parliament House of Commons. Children, Schools and Families Committee, 2009 Children and Their Families Andrew Bainham, Bridget Lindley, Martin Richards, Liz Trinder, 2003-09-07 This book is concerned with the regulation of family relationships in particular the issue of openness and contact in the many different family situations in which it may arise The shift towards a presumption of contact and its articulation within diverse fields of family law and practice raises a whole series of questions which this book seeks to explore For example Why has the contact presumption emerged What is meant by contact and with whom What is the value and purpose of it What makes it work or not work What is the role of law and other forms of external intervention in promoting regulating or facilitating contact and to what extent should familial relationships be subject to state regulation More broadly what can we infer about current conceptualisations of family parenting and the relative importance of social and biological parenthood and childhood from policy and practice towards contact These and other questions were explored in a series of seminars organised by the Cambridge Socio Legal Group in 2002 The book is the product of these seminars Andrew Bainham Belinda Brooks Gordon Ann Buchanan Shelley Day Sclater Judy Dunn John Eekelaar Bob Geldof Jonathan Herring Claire Hughes Joan Hunt Adrian James Julie Jessop Felicity Kaganas Bridget Lindley Mavis Maclean Joanna Miles Katrin Mueller Johnson Elsbeth Neil Jan Pryor Martin Richards Bob Simpson Donna Smith Liz Trinder Accomplishing Permanency: Reunification Pathways and Outcomes for Foster Children Elizabeth Fernandez, 2012-09-07 Reunification is a primary goal of foster care systems and the most common permanency planning decision It is defined as the return of children placed in protective care to the home of their birth family and used to describe the act of restoring a child in out of home care back to the biological family Yet reunification decision making and the process of reintegrating children into birth families remains under researched This Brief takes a look at family reunification knowledge and research in Australia where there is evidence that most children placed in protective care are eventually reunited with their birth parents It explores how a knowledge of reunification decision making and outcomes can contribute to strengthening practice and informing policy formulation and program planning in Child Welfare Making Sense of the Children's Act Nick Allen, 1998-06-18 Using jargon free language Nick Allen explains the implications of the Children Act for families social work professional and those working in the courts and the legal professions Child Welfare for the Twenty-first Century Gerald P. Mallon, Peg McCartt Hess, 2005-09-14 This up to date and comprehensive resource by leaders in child welfare is the first book to reflect the impact of the Adoption and Safe Families Act ASFA of 1997 The text serves as a single source reference for a wide array of professionals who work in children youth and family services in the United States policymakers social workers psychologists educators attorneys guardians ad litem and family court judges and as a text for students of child welfare practice and policy Features include Organized around ASFA's guiding principles of well being safety and permanency Focus on evidence based best practices Case examples integrated throughout First book to include data from the first round of National Child and Family Service Reviews Topics discussed include the latest on prevention of child abuse and neglect and child protective services risk and resilience in child development engaging families connecting families with public and community resources health and mental health care needs of children and adolescents domestic violence substance abuse in the family family preservation services family support services and the integration of family centered practices in child welfare gay and lesbian adolescents and their families children with disabilities and runaway and homeless youth The contributors also explore issues pertaining to foster care and adoption including a focus on permanency planning for children and youth and the need to provide services that are individualized and culturally and spiritually responsive to clients A review of salient systemic issues in the field of children youth and family services completes this collection
