Cultural Contact and the Making of European Art since the Age of Exploration Mary D.

Sheriff, 2010-06-21 Art historians have long been accustomed to thinking about art and artists in terms of national traditions This volume takes a different approach suggesting instead that a history of art based on national divisions often obscures the processes of cultural appropriation and global exchange that shaped the visual arts of Europe in fundamental ways between 1492 and the early twentieth century Essays here analyze distinct zones of contact between various European states between Asia and Europe or between Europe and so called primitive cultures in Africa the Americas and the South Pacific focusing mainly but not exclusively on painting drawing or the decorative arts Each case foregrounds the centrality of international borrowings or colonial appropriations and counters conceptions of European art as a pure tradition uninfluenced by the artistic forms of other cultures The contributors analyze the social cultural commercial and political conditions of cultural contact including tourism colonialism religious pilgrimage trade missions and scientific voyages that enabled these exchanges well before the modern age of globalization Contributors Claire Farago University of Colorado at Boulder Elisabeth A Fraser University of South Florida Julie Hochstrasser University of Iowa Christopher Johns Vanderbilt University Carol Mavor University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Mary D Sheriff University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Lyneise E Williams University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Symbolism, Its Origins and Its Consequences Rosina Neginsky, 2010-08-11 The notion of the symbol is at the root of the Symbolist movement but this symbol is different from the way it was used and understood in the Middle Ages and Renaissance In the Symbolist movement a symbol is not an allegory The Belgian writer Maurice Maeterlinck defined its essence in an article that appeared on April 24 1887 in L'Art moderne He wrote that the notion of a symbol in the Symbolist movement is the opposite of the notion of the symbol in classical usage instead of going from the abstract to the concrete Venus incarnated in the statue represents love it goes from the concrete to the abstract from what is seen heard felt tasted and sensed to the evocation of the idea This volume attempts to give a glimpse into the power of the Symbolist movement and the nature of its fundamental and interdisciplinary role in the evolution of art and literature of the twentieth century It records the studies of a group of scholars who met and discussed these topics together for the first time in 2009 While illuminating the specificity of Symbolism in art architecture and literature in different European countries these articles also demonstrate the crucial role of French Symbolism in the development of the international Symbolist movement The authors hope that an expanding group a society of Art Literature and Music in Symbolism and Decadence ALMSD born out of the first meeting will continue to further this discussion at future conferences and in the printed conference proceedings Women in Art Rachel Ignatofsky, 2019-09-10 A collection of charmingly illustrated and inspiring profiles of fifty pioneering female artists from the eleventh century to today by the New York Times bestselling author of Women in Science A beautifully illustrated fact filled breath of fresh air Countless women have been left out of art history but thanks to gorgeous books like this future generations will begin to know their stories Danielle Krysa founder of The Jealous Curator Women make masterpieces Through fifty fascinating profiles Women in Art highlights the achievements and stories of fifty notable women in the arts from well known figures like painters Frida Kahlo and Georgia O'Keefe to lesser known names like nineteenth century African American quilter Harriet Powers and Hopi Tewa ceramic artist Nampeyo Covering a wide array of artistic mediums Women in Art also contains infographics about artistic movements throughout history statistics about women's representation in museums and notable works by women This fascinating book celebrates the success of the bold female creators who inspired the world and paved the way for the next generation of artists "Visions of the Industrial Age, 1830-1914" Amy Woodson-Boulton, 2017-07-05 Providing a comprehensive interdisciplinary assessment and with a particular focus on expressions of tension and anxiety about modernity this collection examines visual culture in nineteenth century Europe as it attempted to redefine itself in the face of social change and new technologies Contributing scholars from the fields of history art literature and the history of science investigate the role of visual representation and the dominance of the image by looking at changing ideas expressed in representations of science technology politics and culture in advertising art periodicals and novels They investigate how during the period new emphasis was placed on the visual with emerging forms of mass communication photography lithography newspapers advertising and cinema while older forms as varied as poetry the novel painting interior decoration and architecture became transformed The volume includes investigations into new innovations and scientific development such as the steam engine transportation and engineering the microscope spirit photography and the orrery as well as how this new technology is reproduced in illustrated periodicals The essays also look at more traditional forms of creative expression to show that the same concerns and anxieties about science technology and the changing perceptions of the natural world can be seen in the art of Armand Guillaumin Auguste Rodin Gustave

The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 22 Jerome A. Winer,2013-05-13 Volume 22 of The Annual of Psychoanalysis begins with the provocative reflections of Jane Flax and Robert Michels on the current status and future prospects of psychoanalysis a century after Freud Flax believes that analysis will not survive in the postmodern West if analysts cling to the medical model and the notion of analysis as a clinical science Michels believes analysis will be revived in the next century by reorganizing its training institutes within universities A section on Psychoanalysis and the Visual Arts includes John Gedo s probing examination of the inner world of Paul Gauguin and William Meissner s reflections on Vincent van Gogh as artist Johann Michael Rotmann s examination of the transference meanings of third party payment within Germany s health insurance system is a timely consideration of issues that are increasingly salient for American analysts and therapists A rich harvest of theoretical and clinical papers rounds out this volume of The Annual In A Time of Questioning Leon Wurmser responds to the inner and outer challenges before analysis in a closely reasoned defense of the applicability of classical analytic technique to severely disturbed patients Michael Hoit examines the noninterpretive interactive aspects of the analytic relationship arguing that the analyst's noninterpretive activities are intrinsic to treatment and must be incorporated into the theory of therapeutic action In Fables as Psychoanalytic Metaphors Elaine Caruth describes some psychoanalytic metaphors contained within the lessons of the Aesopian fables proposing that the fables address interpersonal and group conflicts that often involve moral issues Wilma Bucci offers her multiple code theory as a new model of emotion and mind based on current theory and research in cognitive science that can account for clinical concepts and provide coherent framework for empirical research And Ralph Roughton uses the case history of Laura to underscore the central role of repetition and interaction in the analytic process Volume 22 will not disappoint readers of this distinguished continuing series Like its predecessors it is a thoroughly assembled collection responsive to the conceptual clinical and institutional challenges now before the field
