Paul Green:

Paul Green, Playwright of the Real South John Herbert Roper, 2003 Drawing on his complete access to Green's papers and on interviews with surviving family members John Herbert Roper covers all the important aspects of Green's life and career By word and deed Paul Green spread the faith of liberalism across the New South which he insistently called the Real South Long after literary fashion had left him behind he wrote daily and remained at the forefront of causes concerning race relations militarism women's and workers rights and capital punishment BOOK JACKET A Southern Life Paul Green, 1994 A selection of letters that sums up the life of a literary Southerner who veered away from the commonly held views of his segregated town Paul Green's Wordbook Paul Green, 1990 The culmination of more than sixty years of observing and collecting superstitions customs cures riddles games stories songs and beliefs Paul Green's Workbook An Alphabet of Reminiscence was published in 1990 A personal collection of folk traditions Paul Green thought that these common idioms served to showcase the heritage of mankind With roots in eastern North Carolina Green took inspiration from his peers to write down the traditions of his home state in 1600 pages The first rendition of Paul Green's Workbook was released in March 1937 by the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and tentatively titled Folk Beliefs and Practices in Central and Eastern North Carolina 1926-28 It took Green most of his life to revise the workbook until it was in its final state in 1990 Watering the Sahara James R. Spence, 2008 Based primarily on previously unpublished interviews with Paul Green Watering the Sahara is a compelling study that chronicles the dramatist's life from childhood in rural Harnett County to military service in World War I the beginnings of his career as both educator and writer his work as a Hollywood screenwriter and the theater collaborations that culminated in the creation of the symphonic drama The Lost Colony Extensive quotation from the interviews provides the reader with new insight into the complexity of North Carolina's leading playwright We the People by Pulitzer Prize-winning Playwright Paul Green Maryland Outdoor Drama Association, Paul Green, 1976* Richard Wright's Native Son Harold Bloom, 2009 Richard Wright is one of the greatest African American writers of the 20th century His masterpiece Native Son is analyzed in this volume of essays Paul Green Provenance Governors State University. College of Business and Public Administration, Paul Michael Green, Governors State University. Institute for Public Policy and Administration, 197? Paul Green Barrett Harper Clark, 1928 Paul Green's The House of Connelly Paul Green, 2014-09-06 One of Paul Green's best plays The House of Connelly was the first play performed on Broadway in 1931 by the renowned Group Theatre of New York This book reintroduces the play and the playwright famous in his day but largely forgotten now although his outdoor symphonic drama The Lost Colony continues to be performed every summer in Manteo North Carolina The House of Connelly is a more traditional drama comparable to the writing of Tennessee Williams and the editor asserts that the play deals more directly and fully with racial issues of the early 20th century South than Williams did in his work A new edition of the play includes both the original tragic ending and the revised ending Green wrote upon the Group Theatre directors request The writing production and publication history of the play is provided as well as a scene by scene critical analysis and a discussion of the 1934 film adaptation Carolina The play s theme is change and Green shows with both endings that the South had to change to survive Paul Green and the American Dream Lois Johnson Faucette,1980 A Paul Green Reader Laurence G. Avery,2000-11-09 North Carolina s Paul Green 1894 1981 was part of that remarkable generation of writers who first brought southern writing to the attention of the world Winner of a Pulitzer Prize for Drama in 1927 Green was a restless experimenter who pioneered a new form of theater with his symphonic drama The Lost Colony A concern for human rights characterized both his life and his writing and his steady advocacy for educational and social reform and racial justice contributed in fundamental ways to the emerging New South in the first half of this century A Paul Green Reader makes available once again the work of this powerful and engaging writer It features Green s drama and fiction with texts of three plays including the Pulitzer Prize winning In Abraham s Bosom and the famous second act of The Lost Colony and six short stories It also reveals the life behind the work through several of Green s essays and letters and an excerpt from The Wordbook his collection of regional folklore Laurence Avery s introduction outlines Green s life and examines the central concerns and techniques of his work A native of Harnett County North Carolina Paul Green was a devoted teacher of philosophy and drama at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Richard Wright Hazel Rowley,2008-02-15 Skillfully interweaving quotations from Wright s writings Rowley portrays a man who transcended the times in which he lived and sought to reconcile opposing cultures in his work In this lively finely crafted narrative Wright passionate complex courageous and flawed comes vibrantly to life Two 8 page photo inserts NBS Special Publication ,1975 Forever Growing Paul Green,2011-11 In this book Green puts forth his fervent conviction that the Western world is out of proportion and on the wrong track in its reliance on science as a way of life for the spirit of man He believes that little is to be learned from our mechanistic psychology but that much is to be learned from oriental religious psychology Originally published in 1945 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value A Southern Life Laurence G. Avery,2017-02-15 This exceptional collection provides new insight into the life of North Carolina writer and activist Paul Green 1894 1981 the first southern playwright to attract international acclaim for his socially conscious dramas Green who taught philosophy and drama at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill won the Pulitzer Prize in 1927 for In Abraham s Bosom an authentic drama of black life Among his other Broadway productions were Native Son and Johnny Johnson From the 1930s onward Green created fifteen outdoor historical productions known as symphonic dramas thereby inventing a distinctly American theater form These include The Lost Colony 1937 which is still performed today Laurence Avery has selected and annotated the 329 letters in this volume from over 9 000 existing pieces

The letters to such figures as Sherwood Anderson Langston Hughes Richard Wright John Dos Passos Zora Neale Hurston and others interested in the arts and human rights in the South are alive with the intellect buoyant spirit and sensitivity to the human condition that made Green such an inspiring force in the emerging New South Avery's introduction and full bibliography of the playwright's works and first productions give readers a context for understanding Green's life and times

The Manual of Statistics Charles M. Goodsell, Henry E. Wallace, 1915 The Federal Theatre Project in the American South Cecelia Moore, 2017-09-26 The Federal Theatre Project in the American South introduces the people and projects that shaped the regional identity of the Federal Theatre Project When college theatre director Hallie Flanagan became head of this New Deal era jobs program in 1935 she envisioned a national theatre comprised of a network of theatres across the country A regional approach was more than organizational it was a conceptual model for a national art Flanagan was part of the little theatre movement that had already developed a new American drama drawn from the distinctive heritage of each region and which they believed would collectively illustrate a national identity The Federal Theatre plan relied on a successful regional model the folk drama program at the University of North Carolina led by Frederick Koch and Paul Green Through a unique partnership of public university private philanthropy and community participation Koch had developed a successful playwriting program and extension service that built community theatres throughout the state North Carolina along with the rest of the Southern region seemed an unpromising place for government theatre Racial segregation and conservative politics limited the Federal Theatre's ability to experiment with new ideas in the region Yet in North Carolina the Project thrived Amateur drama units became vibrant community theatres where whites and African Americans worked together Project personnel launched The Lost Colony one of the first so called outdoor historical dramas that would become its own movement The Federal Theatre sent unemployed dramatists including future novelist Betty Smith to the university to work with Koch and Green They joined other playwrights including African American writer Zora Neale Hurston who came to North Carolina because of their own interest in folk drama Their experience told in this book is a backdrop for each successive generation's debates over government cultural expression art and identity in the American nation

Southdown Out of Green & Cream Simon Stanford, 2023-11-15 With a wealth of previously unpublished images Southdown buses captured in liveries other than the iconic green and cream colour scheme The New Encyclopedia of Southern Culture M. Thomas Inge, 2014-02-01 Offering a comprehensive view of the South's literary landscape past and present this volume of The New Encyclopedia of Southern Culture celebrates the region's ever flourishing literary culture and recognizes the ongoing evolution of the southern literary canon As new writers draw upon and reshape previous traditions southern literature has broadened and deepened its connections not just to the American literary mainstream but also to world literatures a development thoughtfully explored in the essays here Greatly expanding the content of the literature section in the original Encyclopedia this volume includes 31 thematic essays addressing major genres of literature theoretical categories such as regionalism the southern gothic and agrarianism and themes in southern writing such as food religion and sexuality Most striking is the fivefold increase in the number of biographical entries which introduce southern novelists playwrights poets and critics Special attention is given to contemporary writers and other individuals who have not been widely covered in previous scholarship National Bureau of Standards Circular ,1955
