Perspectives on the Marine Animal Forests of the World Sergio Rossi, Lorenzo Bramanti, 2021-02-06 Marine Animal Forests MAFs are spread all over the world Composed by suspension feeding organisms e g corals gorgonians sponges bryozoans bivalves etc MAFs constitute a vast number of marine ecosystems such as coral reefs cold water corals sponge grounds bivalve beds etc The surface covered by these systems is prominent at the scale of the oceans of the planet though poorly known In a previous book Marine Animal Forests the ecology of benthic biodiversity hotspots several aspects of the MAFs were described and discussed building the basis for a holistic approach with the aim of putting these shallow and deep sea ecosystems under a common umbrella The main target of the present book is to identify and address important topics which were not covered in the previous three volumes Bryozoans or Polychaeta for example are treated in this volume as well as hydrothermal vents ecosystems and submarine caves the chemical ecology in MAFs or the nursery effect on these ecosystems The vastity of the MAF concept opens new insights in the biology physiology biodiversity of the organisms structuring these highly biodiverse ecosystems and on the dangers threatening them such as microplastics or the role of invasive species as an impact of their trophic ecology or distribution In a fast changing world in which the complexity of MAFs is at risk we propose an in depth analysis of many aspects that may be inspirational for future research lines in marine biology and ecology Native Peoples A to Z Donald Ricky, 2009-01-01 A current reference work that reflects the changing times and attitudes of and towards the indigenous peoples of all the regions of the Americas from publisher description

Building a Heaven on Earth Albert L. Park, 2014-12-31 Why and how did Korean religious groups respond to growing rural poverty social dislocation and the corrosion of culture caused by forces of modernization under strict Japanese colonial rule 1910 1945 Questions about religion s relationship and response to capitalism industrialization urbanization and secularization lie at the heart of understanding the intersection between colonialism religion and modernity in Korea Yet getting answers to these questions has been a challenge because of narrow historical investigations that fail to study religious processes in relation to political economic social and cultural developments In Building a Heaven on Earth Albert L. Park studies the progressive drives by religious groups to contest standard conceptions of modernity and forge a heavenly kingdom on the Korean peninsula to relieve people from fierce ruptures in their everyday lives The results of his study will reconfigure the debates on colonial modernity the origins of faith based social activism in Korea and the role of religion in a modern world Building a Heaven on Earth in particular presents a compelling story about the determination of the Young Men s Christian Association YMCA the Presbyterian Church and the Ch ndogyo to carry out large scale rural movements to form a paradise on earth anchored in religion agriculture and a pastoral life It is a transnational story of leaders from these three groups leaning on ideas and systems from countries such as Denmark France Japan and the United States to help them reform political economic social and cultural structures in colonial Korea This book shows that these religious institutions provided discursive and material frameworks that allowed for an alternative form of modernity that featured new forms of agency social organization and the nation In so doing Building a Heaven on Earth repositions our understandings of modern Korean history The Archaeology of Ancestors Hill/Hageman,Hageman, Jon B,2016-03-23 Contributors to this landmark volume demonstrate that ancestor veneration was about much more than claiming property rights the spirits of the dead were central to domestic disputes displays of wealth and power and status relationships Case studies from China Africa Europe and Mesoamerica use the evidence of art architecture ritual and burial practices to explore the complex roles of ancestors in the past Including a comprehensive overview of nearly two hundred years of anthropological research The Archaeology of Ancestors reveals how and why societies remember and revere the dead Through analyses of human remains ritual deposits and historical documents contributors explain how ancestors were woven into the social fabric of the living

To Live as Long as Heaven and Earth Robert Ford Campney, 2002-04-08 This book marks a new milestone in the study of Chinese religious history Only a scholar as intelligent and dedicated as Campney would dare tackle and so eloquently translate one of the most important and difficult works of early Chinese religious history Paul Katz author of Images of the Immortal The Cult of Lu Dongbin at the Palace of Eternal Joy This is a pathbreaking work of lasting significance to the field of Chinese religious history The scholarship is solid and current drawing upon the best research from America Europe China and Japan The translation is accurate clear and elegant based upon an innovative analysis of surviving sources Terry Kleeman author of Great Perfection Religion and Ethnicity in a Chinese Millennial Kingdom A competent translation of Ge Hong's hagiographies with close attention paid to sources and editions would already have constituted a major contribution to the field of Taoist studies But Campney provides as well a survey of religious practices in Ge Hong's writings and a reading of the hagiographies which enables us to see the social practices that lie behind them Together these two works in one constitute the best available portrait of religion and society in early fourth century China John Lagerwey author of Taoist Ritual in Chinese Society and History Campney's annotated translation of Ge Hong's 283 343 classic the first in English admirably captures the book's rich evocation of the religious culture of Southern China in the fourth century Ge Hong here offers a series of case studies of what he regarded as the historical and exemplary evidence for the existence of immortals This translation of Traditions of Divine Transcendents conveys a lively and multifaceted vision of the Taoist conception of physical immortality The book's emphasis on practices related to the cult of the immortals and the hope for transcendence squarely places its subject in the religious life of traditional Chinese society Franciscus Verellen co editor of The Taoist Canon A Historical Guide
