Primary Sources:

-Common Law

Significant source of law in Ireland

Comprised of 1000s of decisions delivered by courts over centuries

Decisions are a binding force of law by the virtue of the doctrine of precedent

Courts follow precedents set by higher courts

Examples: murder is contrary to common law

(It means there isn't a specific law for the offence you are being charged with, but instead, it is very old 'accepted practice' predating most statute and has become law of the land)

-Legislation

Legislation consists of laws enacted by a body that is vested with law-making power

This is validated by Article 15.2 of the Constitution, which designates the Oireachtas as the sole law-making body in the State.

Legislation may be amended

Primary and Secondary legislation

Primary= Public General Acts

Directed at the community at large (society), can be initiated by the government or private member (TD or Senator), and made by the Oireachtas
