Political Elites In The Middle East:

Political Elites in the Middle East American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research, 1975 Presented by the American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research as the ninth study within the framework of its Middle East research project Includes bibliographical references and index Political Elites in the Middle East, 1992 Elites in the Middle East I. William Zartman, 1980 Political Elites and Political Development in the Middle East Frank Tachau, 1975 Monographic collection of essays on elites in the political systems in the Middle East with emphasis on traditional culture and modernization includes bibliographies maps references and statistical tables The Palgrave Handbook of Political Elites Heinrich Best, John Higley, 2017-11-08 This handbook presents a comprehensive view of the current theory and research surrounding political elites which is now a pivotal subject for academic study and public discourse In 40 chapters by leading scholars it displays the field's richness and diversity The handbook is organized in six sections each introduced by a co editor focusing on theories about political elites methods for studying them their main structural and behavioral patterns worldwide the differentiation and integration of political elite sectors elite attributes and resources and the dilemmas of political elites in this century Forty years since Robert Putnam's landmark Comparative Study of Political Elites this handbook is an indispensable resource for scholars and students engaged in the study of this vibrant field Elites in the Middle East I. William Zartman, 1980 Armed Organizations and Political Elites in Civil Wars Erwin van Veen, 2024-06-03 This book analyses under what conditions and with what developmental effects armed organizations shift their coercive profile during civil wars with a focus on the recent conflicts in Syria and Iraq The work begins with an operationalisation of the term political settlement focusing on how power is organized in fragile and conflict affected countries and then uses this operationalization to analyse the political settlements of contemporary Syria and Iraq including their breakdown and transformation during recent civil wars of 2011 today in Syria and 2014-17 in Iraq It subsequently examines why and how elite factions have used armed organizations in times of conflict This approach links an understanding of the broad evolution of power relations at the national level with the specific effects of the use of armed organizations on such relations It argues for a shift from assigning fixed labels to armed organizations during civil wars to studying their coercive profile in a dynamic fashion i.e. how armed organizations behave in terms of their use of threats and coercive force The book introduces five profiles of coercive behaviour that demonstrate how the same organization can behave very differently at various points in time One of these the hybrid coercive profile fills a gap in the existing civil war typology of organized armed violence by opening up the possibility of elite factions deliberately combining collaborative and competitive modes of behaviour As an evidence base the book provides in depth analysis of the origins evolution and operations of four armed organizations that have acted under a hybrid coercive profile during the Syrian and Iraqi civil wars the Syrian Kurdish People's Defence Forces the Eagles of the Whirlwind of the Syrian Social Nationalist Party the Iraqi Kurdish Peshmerga and the Badr Organization By connecting the concepts of political settlement and civil war and applying them to specific armed organizations operating in Syria and Iraq the book offers new insights into this nexus This book will be of much interest to students of civil wars conflict studies Middle Eastern Studies and International Relations Elites and Arab Politics Ian Kelly,2020-06-11 This work explains elite behaviour in authoritarian systems and proposes why elites withdraw their support for the incumbent when faced with popular uprisings Building upon foundations drawn from institutional authoritarianism and synthesised with local context from the substantial scholarship on the Middle East and North Africa the book argues that the elite supporting autocrats come from three distinct cadres the military the single party and the personalist Each of these cadres possesses its own distinct institutional interests and preferences towards regime change Drawing on these interests the study constructs a theoretical framework that is assessed through testing it against three variables Utilising an analytic narrative the research finds that the withdrawal of elite support is the consequence of long term processes that see distinct cadres marginalised First increased incumbent preference for personalist elements destabilises regimes as the military and single party cadres reconsider their positions Second neoliberal economic policies implemented via structural adjustment accelerated this personalisation as the state s withdrawal from the economy This in turn affected the ability of the military and single party elites to access patronage Finally the degree of military involvement in the formal political sphere contributes to shaping the nature of the system that replaced the incumbent regime under examination Building upon a wide range of literature the book argues that interest realisation determines whether or not elite actors support regime change in authoritarian systems The volume will be of interest to scholars researching politics social sciences and the Middle East State, Society, and Military Elites in the Middle East Gabriel Ben-Dor,1984 Elites and People Fredrik Engelstad,Trygve Gulbrandsen,Marte Mangset,Mari Teigen,2019-10-07 This volume contains an Open Access chapter The present volume of Comparative Social Research offers a broad set of comparative studies of elites stretching from the Arab Spring in Tunisia and Egypt to women s political leadership in Brazil and Germany via attainment of elite positions among minorities in France and the US
