Thomas A. Baylis, 1989-01-01 Governing by Committee is the first book length study to examine decision making among political executives It examines sixteen advanced Western and Communist states and shows that collegial and semi collegial patterns are far more common than is generally assumed Contrary to the assertions of Max Weber Baylis contends that modern bureaucracy with its growing role in policy making and its intimate association with neocorporatist forms of interest group representation offers a particularly congenial setting for collegial leadership A timely study Governing by Committee opens a new dimension in the comparative study of political executives But it also complements and contributes to the existing literature on political leadership decision making consociationalism and neocorporatism It belongs as well to the still relatively small number of works comparing the politics of advanced Western and Communist states
