Political Economy Of Economic Policy The Quest For Human Betterment:

Political Economy of Economic Policy Wilfred L. David, 1988-09-02 David takes as his point of departure the orthodox rational paradigm of public policy making which he argues does not adequately reflect real world process to present an integrated model for economic policy formulation and execution By juxtaposing the theoretical foundations of the rationalist model with insights drawn from alternative systems of political economy he shows how economic decisionmaking is both more complex and less idealistic than the rational paradigm assumes In constructing his argument David systematically integrates ideas drawn from moral philosophy politics sociology systems theory institutional and neo Marxian economic thought and international dimensions of political economy He suggests a reorientation of theory and analysis based on an approach emphasizing the role of values conflicts power and divergent interests in the decisionmaking process Focusing throughout on questions raised by the rationalist model David builds his analysis around issues such as the validity of the dominant theories of public economic decision making the logical vis a vis ideological foundations of economic policy postulates the extent to which decisions can be made more responsive to values pertaining to human development Ibss:

Political Science: 1988 British Library of Political and Economic Science, 1992 This bibliography lists the most important works in political science published in 1988 Politics of Sustainable Development Susan Baker, 2012-08-08 The concept of sustainable development was popularised by the 1987 Brundtland Report and became a central theme in the EU's Fifth Environmental Action Programme It dominated the Rio Earth Summit and its promotion has been much in evidence in the subsequent The Hydropolitics of Africa Raj Bardouille, Mechthild Nagel, Muna Ndulo, 2008-12-11 Water is both an essential resource and a source of disease and conflict in contemporary Africa And we begin to learn that far distant processes of consumption and pollution can have their impact on the water systems of Africa global warming produced by the material culture of the first world threatens the weather systems and very survival of developing countries In this context this volume the product of an expert meeting at Cornell University's Institute for African Development traces and tracks the dynamics of the contemporary hydropolitics of Africa The volume contains a variety of approaches to the study of the organisation of water within Africa ranging from technical essays on water borne diseases through institutional analyses of the legal and political arrangements around the distribution of water to social policy analyses of the unmet demand for water amongst Africa's poor Taken as a whole the volume provides the reader with a useful reference work on the contemporary hydropolitics of Africa whilst simultaneously providing a lively introduction to a critical and much neglected area of African development policy Bibliography of Law and Economics B. Bouckaert, G. de Geest, 2013-04-18 Law and economics can be considered as the most exciting development in legal scholarship in recent decades This volume is the first all encompassing bibliography in this area It lists approximately 7000 publications covering the whole area of law and economics including old law and economics topics such as antitrust law labor law tax law social security economic regulation etc as well as new law and economics with such topics as tort law contract law family law procedure criminal law etc The volume also includes the literature on the philosophical foundations and the fundamental concepts of the approach Part Two gives a special survey of law and economics publications in Europe written in other languages than English The Bibliography of Law and Economics is an invaluable reference work for students scholars lawyers economists and other people interested in this field Regional Problems and Policies in Latin America Juan R. Cuadrado-Roura,Patricio Aroca,2014-01-07

sands regulation Providing a thorough account of the ways in which the regulatory process has prioritised economic interests over the land based cultural interests of First Nations it addresses a gap in the literature by explaining how environmental harm has been systematically produced over time by a regulatory process tasked with the pursuit of sustainable development With an approach emphasizing the importance of understanding how and why the regulatory process has been able to circumvent various protections for the entire duration in which the contemporary oil sands industry has existed this work complements existing literature and provides a platform from which future investigations into environmental harm may be conducted It is essential reading for those with an interest in green criminology environmental harm indigenous rights and regulatory controls relating to fossil fuel production Journal of Economic Literature ,1989 China's Economic Transition, 1978-2000 -- an Alternative Institutional Analysis Stanley Zhao-xiong Yang,2002
