Political Theory And Praxis New Perspectives:

Political Theory and Praxis Terence Ball, 1977 Reconstructing Nonviolence Roberto Baldoli, 2018-09-03 Nonviolent methods of action have been a powerful tool since the early twentieth century for social protest and revolutionary social and political change and there is diffuse awareness that nonviolence is an efficient spontaneous choice of movements individuals and whole nations Yet from a conceptual standpoint nonviolence struggles to engage with key contemporary political issues the role of religion in a post secular world the crisis of democracy and the use of supposedly nonviolent techniques for violent aims Drawing on classic thinkers and contemporary authors in particular the Italian philosopher Aldo Capitini this book shows that nonviolence is inherently a non systematic and flexible system with no pure immaculate thought at its core Instead at the core of nonviolence there is praxis which is impure because while it aims at freedom and plurality it is made of less than perfect actions performed in an imperfect environment by flawed individuals Offering a more progressive transformative and at the same time pluralistic concept of nonviolence this book is an original conceptual analysis of political theory which will appeal to students of international relations global politics security studies peace studies and democratic theory Making the Political Leigh K. Jenko, 2010-06-03 Democratic political theory often sees collective action as the basis for non coercive social change assuming that its terms and practices are always self evident and accessible But what if we find ourselves in situations where collective action is not immediately available or even widely intelligible This book examines one of the most intellectually substantive and influential Chinese thinkers of the early twentieth century Zhang Shizhao 1881 1973 who insisted that it is individuals who must make the political before social movements or self aware political communities have materialized Zhang draws from British liberalism democratic theory and late Imperial Confucianism to formulate new roles for effective individual action on personal social and institutional registers In the process he offers a vision of community that turns not on spontaneous consent or convergence on a shared goal but on ongoing acts of exemplariness that inaugurate new unpredictable contexts for effective personal action The Political Thought of Hannah Arendt Michael G. Gottsegen, 1994-01-01 It explicates Arendt s major works The Human Condition Between Past and Future On Revolution The Life of the Mind and Lectures on Kant s Political Philosophy and explores her contributions to democratic theory and to contemporary postmodern and neo Kantian political philosophy Nietzsche, Epistemology, and Philosophy of Science B.E. Babich, 2013-03-09 Nietzsche Epistemology and Philosophy of Science is the second volume of a collection on Nietzsche and the Sciences featuring essays addressing truth epistemology and the philosophy of science with a substantial representation of analytically schooled Nietzsche scholars This collection offers a dynamic articulation of the differing strengths of Anglo American analytic and contemporary European approaches to philosophy with translations from European specialists notably Carl Friedrich von Weizsäcker Paul Valadier and Walther Ch Zimmerli This broad collection also features a preface by Alasdair MacIntyre Contributions explore Nietzsche s contributions to the philosophy of language and epistemology and include essays on the social history of truth and the historical and cultural analyses of Serres and Baudrillard as well as new contributions to the philosophy of science including theological and hermeneutical approaches history of science the philosophy of medicine cognitive science and technology

Aristotelian Philosophy Kelvin Knight, 2013-05-30 Aristotle is the most influential philosopher of practice and Knight's new book explores the continuing importance of Aristotelian philosophy First it examines the theoretical bases of what Aristotle said about ethical political and productive activity It then traces ideas of practice through such figures as St Paul Luther Hegel Heidegger and recent Aristotelian philosophers and evaluates Alasdair MacIntyre's contribution Knight argues that whereas Aristotle's own thought legitimated oppression MacIntyre's revision of Aristotelianism separates ethical excellence from social elitism and justifies resistance With MacIntyre Aristotelianism becomes revolutionary MacIntyre's case for the Thomistic Aristotelian tradition originates in his attempt to elaborate a Marxist ethics informed by analytic philosophy He analyses social practices in teleological terms opposing them to capitalist institutions and arguing for the cooperative defence of our moral agency In condensing these ideas Knight advances a theoretical argument for the reformation of Aristotelianism and an ethical argument for social change The Crisis of German Historicism Liisi Keedus, 2015-02-26 A comparative intellectual history of the political thought of Hannah Arendt and Leo Strauss two influential and controversial German Jewish American political philosophers EBOOK: FOR EDUCATION Wilfred Carr, 1995-02-16 A recent review of his work describes Wilfred Carr as one of the most brilliant philosophers now working in the rich British tradition of educational philosophy His work is rigorous refreshing and original and examines a number of fundamental issues with clarity and penetration In For Education Wilfred Carr provides a comprehensive justification for reconstructing educational theory and research as a form of critical inquiry In doing this he confronts a number of important philosophical questions What is educational theory What is an educational practice How are theory and practice related What is the role of values in educational research Is a genuinely educational science possible By appealing to developments in critical theory the philosophy of science and the philosophy of the social sciences Wilfred Carr provides answers to these questions which vindicate the idea of an educational science that is not on or about education but for education a science genuinely committed to promoting educational values and ideals Phenomenology 2010. Volume 3: Selected Essays from the Euro-Mediterranean Area, In the Horizon of Freedom Copoeru, Ion, Kontos, Pavlos, Serrano de Haro, Agustin, 2011-01-01 Nu s au introdus date Looking Into Primary Headship Geoff Southworth, 2002-11-01 This is both a study of leadership and a research methods text It offers an analytical description of a primary headteacher at work over the course of one school year Using a mix of participant observation and interviews the book provides a portrait of this head's approach to his work his background beliefs the school as a context what he did how he dealt with change and development power and the personal dimension of headship The portrait is matched to the contemporary literature and an hypothesis is formulated about primary headship and is then used to critique existing ideas about school leadership The book also suggests ways of developing heads and school teachers
