Prayer Power And The Problem Of Suffering:

Prayer, Power, and the Problem of Suffering Sharyn Echols Dowd, 1988 What are They Saying about Mark?

Daniel J. Harrington, 2004 Perhaps the most striking development in biblical studies in recent years has been the proliferation of new methods used in approaching the texts While in most circles the historical critical method remains fundamental biblical interpreters now routinely draw on new approaches developed in linguistics literary studies and the social sciences In recent years an important testing ground for the application of these new methods to the Bible has been the Gospel of Mark As a fast moving and sophisticated narrative about Jesus public ministry issuing in his passion and death Mark's Gospel lends itself to various forms of literary historical and theological analysis This book describes and analyzes the many attempts at applying the new methods to Mark's Gospel It considers how this Gospel has been approached from different angles according to the perspectives of modern literary criticism examines how its major theological topics have been treated explores efforts at clarifying its historical setting and discusses the engaged feminist political and pastoral readings this Gospel has generated in recent years Rediscovering New Testament Prayer John Koenig, 2004-04-09 John Koenig presents a rich variety of prayer practices that reflect the real prayer experience of Christ and his followers Recapturing the earliest believers extraordinary encounters with the Holy Koenig offers prayer as instruction for the mind renewal of the spirit and help in effecting positive change in one's life The Theological Role of Paradox in the Gospel of Mark Laura C. Sweat, 2013-08-15 Scholarship on the Gospel of Mark has long been convinced of the paradoxical description of two of its primary themes christology and discipleship This book argues that paradoxical language pervades the entire narrative and that it serves a theological purpose in describing God's activity Part One focuses on divine action present in Mark 4 10 12 In the first paradox Mark portrays God's revelatory acts as consistently accompanied by concealment The second paradox is shown in the various ways in which divine action confirms yet counters scripture Finally Mark describes God's actions in ways that indicate both wastefulness and goodness deeds that are further illuminated by the ongoing yet defeated presence of evil Part Two demonstrates that this paradoxical language is widely attested across Mark's passion narrative as he continues to depict God's activity with the use of the three paradoxes observed in Mark 4 Through paradoxical narrative Mark emphasizes God's transcendence and presence showing that even though Jesus has brought revelation a complete understanding of God remains tantalizingly out of their grasp until the eschaton 4 22 Thaumaturgic Prowess Andrew J.

Kelley, 2019-07-29 Back cover Andrew J Kelley offers an interesting survey of miracle narratives in the Second Temple period and a thorough comparison specifically of the means by which miracle workers perform miracles between other miracle workers and the Markan Jesus In this work he has implications for Mark's view of Jesus as well as the significance of miracle working in general The Gospel of Mark John P. Keenan, 2005-02-03 John Keenan's The Gospel of Mark is a radically new reading of this most intriguing of the Synoptic gospels a remarkable feat in the face of the explosion of Markan scholarship over the last twenty years Keenan accomplishes this by approaching Mark as no other scholar has done through the lens of Mahayana Buddhist philosophy This view stresses the emptying of all preconceived notions of how to begin reading as well as reclamation of such notions in terms of dependent co arising and Jesus assault on the validity of conventional religiosity The Gospel of Mark displays an alternative hermeneutical procedure one generated by the Mahayana understanding of the function of text and doctrine and informed by Mahayana philosophy Part One of The Gospel of Mark provides an overview of different interpretive techniques in Markan scholarship It describes and argues for the validity of a Buddhist approach to this charter document of the Christian Gospel Here the author demonstrates a profound grasp not only of scriptural scholarship but of Mahayana philosophy Keenan discusses themes such as Mark s elliptical style and the journeying that provides the impetus for the narrative and explores them through the lens of emptiness and dependent co arising which are the focal points of a Mahayana reading In Part Two Keenan gives the reader truly fresh insights into the paradoxical world of Mark s Jesus Through a Buddhist lens the text offers startling and new perspectives on Jesus himself the experience of the Kingdom miracle stories and parables the passion and death the resurrection and return

Viljoen,Albert J. Coetsee,2023-08-31 This publication deals with a biblical theology of prayer based on the New Testament It forms the second of a two volume publication on a biblical theology of prayer dealing with the concept of prayer in the Old and New Testament respectively This New Testament volume begins with an introduction on prayer and worship in early Jewish tradition followed by eleven chapters dealing with New Testament corpora It concludes with a final chapter synthesising the findings of the respective investigations of the Old and New Testament corpora to provide a summative theological perspective of the development of the concept of prayer through scripture Prayer forms a major and continuous theme throughout the biblical text Prayer was an integral part of the religious existence of God's people in both the Old and New Testament It underwent its greatest developments during after and as a result of the Exile and was deepened and transformed in the New Testament In both the Old and the New Testament God is the sole addressee of his people's prayer This conviction continued into the New Testament but was broadened with Trinitarian elements of worship adoration and intercession A biblical theological investigation is chosen as methodology Since all the biblical books form part of one canonical text the assumption is that the various theologies about prayer being displayed in these books can be synthesised into a developing meta theology about prayer As the Old and New Testament form part of the canonical text the results about prayer in the Old Testament can be brought into play with the results about prayer in the New Testament This eventually leads toward an overarching biblical theology of prayer Prayer in the Gospels Mathias Nygaard,2012-07-19 In Prayer in the Gospels Mathias Nygaard offers a text centred reading of the prayer materials of the Gospels His approach provides for exegesis and theology in a single discussion The Beginning of the Gospel Adela Yarbro Collins,2001-09-24 Much exciting work remains to be done from perspectives of the history of religions and tradition history Collins's assessment of Mark in its historical context sheds light on important literary and historical issues Both scholars and students of the Bible will appreciate this informative and clearly written work Mark David E. The Divine Goodness of Jesus Paul Moser, 2021-06-24 Explores with a compelling method the distinctiveness of Jesus' role as God's filial inquirer of those who inquire of him Theology of the Gospel of Mark Paul L. Danove, 2019-11-28 Paul L. Danove presents the first full length study of God and the theology of God in the Gospel of Mark In dialogue with scholars who assume that texts are designed to guide their own interpretation Danove develops and applies methods of analysis to describe the actions and attributes of God in the Gospel of Mark Danove presents his argument in a threefold structure beginning with outlining a set of complementary semantic narrative and rhetorical methods for investigating characterization He then moves to examine the semantic and narrative content related to the character of God in the Gospel of Mark and then formulates this information under the guidance of the narrative rhetoric into statements of God's fifty six repeated and sixty two non repeated actions and attributes arranged according to God's portrayal as semantic agent benefactive content of human experience experiencer goal instrument patient of predication source theme and topic of faith Fortress Introduction to the Gospels, Second Edition Mark Allan Powell, 2019-10-01 With clarity and verve Mark Allen Powell introduces the beginning student to the contents and structure of the Gospels their distinctive characteristics and their major themes An introductory chapter surveys the political religious and social world of the Gospels methods of approaching early Christian texts the genre of the Gospels and the religious character of these writings This second edition has been updated to take fuller account of different theories regarding the Gospels with new chapters on the historical Jesus and on gospel literature not included in our New Testament and with a pleasing new format Special features include illustrations and more than two dozen special topics The Transfiguration of Jesus John Paul Heil, 2000 la trasfigurazione di Gesù Studio di John Paul Heil Questa è la prima monografia dedicata ai tre racconti della trasfigurazione di Gesù in una prospettiva critica narrativa orientata all'uditorio Essa propone un nuovo genere letterario denominato pivotal mandatory epiphany This is the first monograph devoted to the three accounts of the transfiguration of Jesus from a narrative critical audience oriented perspective It proposes a new literary genre designation for all three versions that of a pivotal mandatory epiphany based upon the precedents in Num 22 31 35 Josh 5 13 15 and 2 Macc 3 22 34 The background and meaning of each of the major motifs of the three accounts of the transfiguration is explained Jesus is externally and temporarily transformed into a heavenly figure to anticipate his future attainment of heavenly glory and to enable him to speak with the heavenly figures of Moses and Elijah Rather than symbols of the Law and the Prophets Moses and Elijah represent prophetic figures who in contrast to Jesus attained heavenly glory without being put to death by their people The three tents Peter wants to build have their background primarily in the Tent of Meeting as a place of divine communication The cloud overshadowed only Moses and Elijah it has both a vehicular function of implicitly transporting Moses and Elijah back to heaven and an oracular function of providing the divine mandate that serves as the climax of the mandatory epiphany The climactic divine mandate to listen to Jesus as God's Son refers primarily to the various predictions of his suffering death and resurrection throughout the narrative The pivotal nature of this divine mandate is confirmed by a demonstration of the narrative function of the transfiguration epiphany in relation to its preceding and succeeding context in each Gospel
