Pregnancy Welsh:

The Registrar General's Statistical Review of England and Wales for the Year ... Great Britain. General Register Office, 1960
The Registrar-General's Statistical Review of England and Wales Great Britain. General Register Office, 1963
Congenital Abnormalities and Preterm Birth Related to Maternal Illnesses During Pregnancy Nándor Ács, Ferenc G. Bánhid, Andrew E. Czeizel, 2010-07-05 The major objective of our studies in the last decade was a systematic analysis of maternal diseases during pregnancy to reveal their possible adverse effects on birth outcomes The two most important factors of infant mortality were partially analyzed structural birth defects known as congenital abnormalities CAs and preterm birth PB In general the objectives of scientific studies might be either to test a new hypothesis or to confirm or confront previously published results However less frequently the authors scientists have personal motivations determined by their professional activities The authors of this book are practicing physicians and genetic epidemiologist who are mainly interested in the following three practical questions 1 The possible adverse effects of pharmaceutical products The possible teratogenic potential of about 170 drugs has been evaluated very thoroughly using the data set of the Hungarian Case Control Surveillance of Congenital Abnormalities HCCSCA in the last 50 years These drugs were used to treat maternal diseases and the findings of our population based case control studies will be cited in this book and are shown in the Appendix at the end of the book However our long experiences showed two problems in the drug teratology In general the evaluation of clinical doses of these drugs is a particularly difficult challenge due to the modification effects of confounders This problem motivated one of the authors to establish a new model of disaster epidemiology

Regulating Decision-Making in Multiple Pregnancy Jeffrey Wale, 2021-06-22 This book examines the regulation and practice of medical decision making where the context is that of a multiple pregnancy and where the question is whether or not to carry out a fetal reduction procedure It concerns three main lines of inquiry first the nature of fetal reduction and the legal grounds for termination typically relied upon secondly the extent to which legal ethical and professional norms guide or constrain this particular kind of decision making and thirdly the adequacy of these norms The book uses empirical sources to develop its analysis contributing new insight and the kind of evidence necessary to shape regulation clinical practice and future research The key findings show that fetal abnormality is often given as the justifying ground that the legal ethical and professional norms offer little explicit guidance for fetal reduction and on the general question of termination ethical norms suffer from a high level of contestation the key norms in the UK abortion legislation are unclear and disconnected from practice and professional norms are only marginally more adequate Given the indeterminacy of these norms it is no surprise that the evidence indicates that doctors are only weakly guided by them in making their decisions Various recommendations are advanced in this book including the need for a situational emphasis on shared decision making and patient centred care

Planning P. F. Selman,2012-12-06 The Sources and Nature of the Statistics of the United Kingdom produced under the auspices of the Royal Statistical Society and edited by Maurice Kendall filled a notable gap on the library shelves when it made its appearance in the early post war years Through a series of critical reviews by many of the foremost national experts it constituted a valuable contemporary guide to statisticians working in many fields as well as a bench mark to which historians of the development of Statistics in this country are likely to return again and again The Social Science Research Council and the Society were both delighted when Professor Maunders came forward with the proposal that a revised version should be produced indicating as well his willingness to take on the onerous task of editor The two bodies were more than happy to act as co sponsors of the project and to help in its planning through a joint steering committee The result we are confident will be judged a worthy successor to the previous volumes by the very much larger statistics public that has come into being in the intervening years Mrs SUZANNE REEVE Mrs E J SNELL Secretary Honorary Secretary Economic and Social Research Council Royal Statistical Society SSRC is now the Economic and Social Research Council ESRC vii MEMBERSHIP OF JOINT STEERING COMMITTEE December 1986 Chairman Miss S V Cunliffe Representing the Royal Statistical Society Mr M C Fessey Dr S Rosenbaum Mrs E J ACSM's Primary Care Sports Medicine Douglas McKeag,James L.
