Prehistoric Humans in Film and Television Michael Klossner, 2015-01-09 From the early days of the movies cavemen have been a popular subject for filmmakers not surprisingly since the birth of cinema occurred only a few decades after the earliest scientific studies of prehistoric man Filmmakers however were not constrained by the emerging science instead they most often took a comedic look at prehistory a trend that continued throughout the 20th century Prehistoric humans also populated adventure fantasy films with the original One Million B C 1940 leading the charge Documentaries were also made but it was not until the 1970s that accurate film accounts of prehistoric humans finally emerged This exhaustive work provides detailed accounts of 581 film and television productions that feature depictions of human prehistory Included are dramas and comedies set in human prehistory documentaries and films and television shows in which prehistoric people somehow exist in historical periods from the advent of civilization up to the present or in extraterrestrial settings Each entry includes full filmographic data including year of release running time production personnel cast information and format A description of each film provides background on the prehistoric elements Contemporary critical commentary is included for many of the works      Prehistoric Man and Beast Henry Neville Hutchinson, 1896      Prehistoric Man of the Santa Barbara Coast David Banks Rogers, 1929      Prehistoric Monsters Allen A. Debus, 2014-11-21 Over centuries discoveries of fossil bones spawned legends of monsters such as giants and dragons As the field of earth sciences matured during the 19th century early fossilists gained understanding of prehistoric creatures such as Tyrannosaurus Triceratops and Stegosaurus This historical study examines how these genuine beasts morphed in the public imagination into mythical powerful engines of destruction and harbingers of cataclysm taking their place in popular culture film and literature as symbols of lost worlds where time stands still      The Origins of Catholic Evolutionism, 1831-1950 Kenneth W. Kemp, 2025 The history of the Catholic Church's response to evolutionary biology has often been badly misrepresented as antagonistic In fact its response is better characterized as a long process of accommodation This work is a comprehensive introduction to the work of the Catholic scientists and theologians who worked out the details of that accommodation Few Catholics found the evolutionary origin of plant and animal species theologically objectionable None thought that evolutionary processes provided a sufficient account of the origin of the first human beings Catholics differed over whether those processes played a role in the origin of the first human body Catholic evolutionism began with the work of four nineteenth century scientists who might be called the pioneers of Catholic evolutionism Belgian geologist Jean Baptiste d Omalius d Halloy English anatomist George Mivart Italian anatomist Filippo De Filippi and French paleontologist Albert Gaudry The next generations of Catholic evolutionists writing in the period from about 1890 1940 included scientists Jesuit entomologists Erich Wasmann and Felix R schkamp as well as priests who focused more exclusively on the question of compatibility Dalmace Leroy John Zahm Henry de Dorlodot and Ernest Messenger Among the scientists might also be included French paleontologist Pierre Teilhard de Chardin who made some contributions to the general idea of the compatibility of evolutionary biology and Catholic theology but who eventually veered off in the direction of a comprehensive evolutionary theology of nature the details of which are beyond the scope of this book Catholic anti evolutionists made efforts to have the Church prohibit works of Catholic evolutionism that in their judgment gave evolutionary processes too great a r le in the formation of the human body or that relied on problematic principles of hermeneutics Efforts on the former front were eventually blocked by Pope Pius XI The first magisterial statement on the question came however only in 1950 with Pope Pius XII s encyclical Humani generis which provisionally declared the orthodoxy of evolutionary accounts of the origin of the human body In addition to providing details about Catholic evolutionists and the magisterium the book also reviews the treatment of the new ideas in Catholic encyclopedias periodicals and textbooks Although written in the first instance as a work of scholarship the book was also written with attention to the needs of scientists priests and members of the general public who are interested in the question

Renewal Theology J. Rodman Williams, 2011-05-03 Renewal Theology deals with the full range of Christian truth from within the charismatic tradition Previously published as three separate volumes Renewal Theology represents the first exhaustive balanced articulation of charismatic theology Renewal Theology discusses Book One God the World and Redemption Book Two Salvation the Holy Spirit and Christian Living Book Three The Church the Kingdom and Last Things As theology this work is an intellectual achievement But it is much more than that The author urges the church to undertake its task of theology in the proper spirit an attitude of prayer a deepening sense of reverence an ever increasing purity of heart a spirit of growing love a theological approach rooted in the glory of God Done in such a spirit theology becomes a faithful and powerful witness to the living God

Darwin in the Jewish Imagination Daniel R. Langton, 2025-10-09 Darwin in the Jewish Imagination provides an overview of Jewish responses to Darwinian evolution one of the most transformative and challenging ideas of the industrial age Spanning a century of intellectual and cultural history it examines how Jewish thinkers traditionalists reformers secularists mystics and philosophers grappled with the profound implications of evolutionary theory for their religious beliefs and cultural identities The book offers close readings of key figures and debates from Europe to the United States situating them within the broader contexts of the religion science controversy Jewish Christian interfaith relations and the intellectual challenges of modernity A central theme is the pan en theistic tendency evident in Jewish thought reflecting a vision of God as intimately connected with the evolving universe and its natural laws It explores how Jewish thinkers reinterpreted foundational concepts such as creation divine action and human morality in light of Darwin s ideas This interdisciplinary work not only illuminates how Jewish thought adapted to evolutionary theory but also reveals the broader cultural and theological exchanges shaping modern Judaism By examining these responses the book sheds light on how science and Jewish religion have engaged in an enriching dialogue with profound consequences for modern Jewish thought belief and identity

Curious Questions in History, Literature, Art, and Social Life Sarah Hutchins Killikelly, 1900

Conversations with Jean Piaget Jean-Claude Bringuier, Jean Piaget, 1980 What is most impressive about this book is its intelligence its sophistication and its charm This book presents Piaget s work and his person better than anything else that I know about David Elkind Tufts University The tone is one of constant movement from the most ordinary to the most abstruse There are 14 conversations with le Patron some in 1969 some in 1975 and several more with co workers in various fields In Mr Bringuier s book in a pleasant informal way we see a sophisticated non scientist exploring Piaget s domain with the master Some of Piaget s best known findings about children as explained along the way but Mr Bringuier has ways of bringing out the relation of this psychological work to the whole of Piaget s enterprise and we get a good sense of the man and his work Howard E Gruber New York Times Book Review
