Caesarism, Charisma and Fate Peter Baehr, 2017-12-02 How do writers marginalized by the authoritarian state in which they live intervene in the political process They cannot do so directly because they are not politicians Other modes of engagement are possible however A writer may take up arms and become a revolutionary Or as Max Weber did he may try to influence politics by playing the role of constitutional advisor or by seeking to shape the dominant language in which his contemporaries think Weber sought to reconstitute the political and social vocabulary of his day Part I of Caesarism Charisma and Fate examines a great writer's political passions and the linguistic creativity they generated Specially it is an analysis of the manner in which Weber reshaped the nineteenth century idea of Caesarism a term traditionally associated with the authoritarian populism of Napoleon III and Bismarck and transmuted it into a concept that was either neutral or positive The coup de grace of this alchemy was to make Caesarism reappear as charisma In that transformation a highly contentious political concept suffused with disapproval and anxiety was naturalized into an ideal type of universal value free sociology Part II augments Weber s ideas for the modern age A recurrent preoccupation of Weber s writings was human fate a condition that evokes the pathos of choice the political meaning of death and the formation of national solidarity Peter Baehr marrying Weber and Durkheim fashions a new concept community of fate for sociological theory Communities of fate such as the Warsaw Ghetto or Hong Kong dealing with the Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome SARS crisis are embattled social sites in which people face the prospect of collective death They cohere because of an intense and broadly shared focus of attention on a common plight Weber s work helps us grasp the nature of such communities the mechanisms that produce them and not least their dramatic consequences

China's Total War Strategy Ryan Clarke,LJ Eads,Robert McCreight,Xiaoxu Sean Lin,2025-07-29 Our human instinct along with the chronicle of human history advises us to take heed to seriously consider what a dilemma really is and what it truly means especially if we embrace the inherent risks and drawbacks involved Dilemmas in geopolitics and global security matters are no less pivotal with several downstream implications that are poorly understood from the standpoint of today looking forward

ten years Our ability to pinpoint what tomorrow brings in geostrategic terms is severely limited despite ongoing leadership hubris and pervasive expert assurances that few crises embedded in the future might surprise us To readily admit there are uncertainties that estimates are best guesses and that firm predictions cannot rule out unexpected anomalies is critical Few professional or armchair pundits would argue with the notion that often we just do not know what we do not know So it is with the decade after 2025 and the central challenge for nations such as the United States and China What is likely to happen when and why We must note that dilemmas are generally defined as a situation in which a difficult choice has to be made between two or more alternatives featuring most often equally undesirable ones with uncertain outcomes This insightful definition equips us to conditionally set the stage for examining the presumptive geopolitical trajectory of China after 2025 Why conditionally Most assuredly because we cannot fathom or estimate in 2024 all the unforeseen crises wildcards and variables which could influence or trigger China's leadership to act or refrain from doing so during the decade beginning in 2025 This is also cloaked in the parallel assumption that the future geostrategic trajectory of the United States is both well known and predictable The decade after 2025 will be of primary significance for China and its Chinese Communist Party CCP leadership team Numerous theories and assessments by experts and seasoned observers will be offered to explain this landmark decade for the CCP and filter into the analysis China's fragmented and covertly conflicted population How many of its leaders want to retain an ironclad CCP control over all aspects of life in China for decades to come and can they do so Instead consider how many millions of Chinese citizens yearn instead during this new decade for a unique form of democratic revolt with Chinese characteristics starting right now So a paramount dilemma for China its leaders and its people is what dilemmas will unfold and manifest during the decade starting in 2025 Dilemmas abound for the CCP and China itself One such dilemma is rooted in the military dimension of the CCP and the global security paradigm which China favors for itself
