The Global Navigation Satellite System Alessandra A.L. Andrade, 2017-03-02
The book constitutes a valuable guide to the implementation of the CNS ATM system towards ensuring safe efficient and orderly evolution of international air transport It uses a pragmatic approach in addressing the major legal institutional technical political and economic aspects underlying the Global Navigation Satellite System which is expected to play a fundamental role in aviation safety and air navigation world wide The book also examines through well reasoned analysis and research the various controversial and relevant issues which will dominate the system in the years to come The author demonstrates a profound grasp of the subject matter through a sustained absorption of technical institutional and legal principles applying to this complex subject This is brought to bear in the coherent structure and logical organisation of the chapters which makes the book an invaluable tool for the aviation community scholars and national and international regulatory authorities It will also be immensely useful for practitioners who work towards further development and implementation of the CNS ATM system There has been no comparable work previously published

Space Insurance: International Legal Aspects Katarzyna Malinowska, 2017-03-15
Insurance related to outer space activities has been around since the 1960s but has become vastly more significant with the increased commercial use of satellites This book focuses on the legal aspects of space insurance in the contractual context analysing space risk as well as the insurance terms used on the market It offers the first in depth coverage both practical and theoretical of space insurance from an international law perspective Attending throughout to the important and problematic distinction between the space segment upstream and ground segment downstream in space law this book deals comprehensively with such issues and topics as the following the main hazards relating to space activities the impact of new space technologies on the level of risk and insurance the differing types of risks attributable to various entities in the context of insurable interest aspects of the space risk allocation regimes and risk assessment the impact of the five space treaties the Outer Space Treaty the Liability Convention the Rescue Agreement the Registration Convention and the Moon Agreement on the subject and scope of insurance coverage the advent of suborbital flight commercial human space flight and space tourism in the context of emerging insurance risks the problem of space debris contractual aspects of space activities affecting the space insurance risks basic notions such as outer space space object in the context of space activities and related insurance coverage basic insurance principles and their operation in the space insurance and the adjustment of losses and the settlement of disputes in space insurance The author emphasises

the need to understand the various insurance risks facing particular types of commercial space activities including pre launch launch transportation spaceflight satellite communications satellite navigation satellite remote sensing and space station operation Satellites are increasingly a vital part of many daily activities of contemporary society and the Earth s orbit is becoming ever more crowded heightening the risks of collision damage and claims This thoroughly researched book will therefore be extremely useful to lawyers policymakers and academics tasked with defining the scope of insurance coverage that accurately mirrors technological contractual and legal reality Its practical aspect will be of extraordinary value to insurance lawyers underwriters and brokers

Scientific Satellite and Moon-Based Earth Observation for Global Change Huadong Guo,Wenxue Fu,Guang Liu,2019-06-27 Global change involves complex and far reaching variations in the Earth s systems and satellite observations have been widely used in global change studies Over the past five decades Earth observation has developed into a comprehensive system that can conduct dynamic monitoring of the land the oceans and the atmosphere at the local regional and even global scale At the same time although a large number of Earth observation satellites have been launched very few of them are used in global change studies The lack of scientific satellite programs greatly hinders research on global change This book proposes using a series of global change scientific satellites to establish a scientific observation grid for global environmental change monitoring from space and offers the first comprehensive review of lunar based Earth observation These scientific satellites could provide not only basic datasets but also scientific support in facilitating advances in international global change research
