Saving The Fragments:

Writing Our Lives Steven Joel Rubin, 1991 Twenty eight selections from the writings of some of the best known American Jewish novelists dramatists critics and historians span the social and cultural history of American Jews in the twentieth century Often joyous occasionally tragic they provide a fascinating record from immigration to assimilation from life in the ghetto to the current movement by many to recapture their Jewish identity At once personal and historical the selections are poignant and moving testimonies to the perseverance of the American Jewish people Saving Migrant Birds John Faaborg, 2014-02-19 Rigorous and well defended Faaborg makes many fresh and in some cases provocative points regarding management guidelines for migrant birds Kenneth Able Great Plains Research In the 1980s numerous scientific surveys documented both declining bird populations especially among Neotropical songbirds that winter in the tropics and the loss of tropical rain forest habitat Drawing the seemingly obvious conclusion scientists and environmental activists linked songbird declines to loss of tropical habitats and alerted the world to an impending ecological catastrophe Their warnings led to the establishment of the Neotropical Migratory Bird Conservation Program also known as Partners in Flight the self proclaimed largest conservation effort in history Looking back over more than a decade of efforts to save migrant birds John Faaborg offers the first serious evaluation of the state of songbird populations today the effectiveness of conservation programs such as Partners in Flight and the reliability and completeness of scientific research on migrant birds Taking neither an alarmist nor a complacent approach he shows that many factors besides habitat loss affect bird populations and that Neotropical migrants as a group are not declining dramatically though some species adapt to habitat alteration more successfully than others Faaborg's state of the art survey thus clarifies the kinds of information we will need and the conservation efforts we should undertake to ensure the long term survival of Neotropical migrant birds Presents a carefully and closely reasoned argument about the magnitude of the conservation problems facing migrant birds how we can reduce these problems and how current conservation efforts have enormous value even if there is no immediate crisis Scott K Robinson Professor and Head Department of Animal Biology University of Illinois Transcending Boundaries Sandra L. Beckett, 2013-10-11 Transcending Boundaries Writing for a Dual Audience of Children and Adults is a collection of essays on twentieth century authors who cross the borders between adult and children's literature and appeal to both audiences This collection of fourteen essays by scholars from eight countries constitutes the first book devoted to the art of crosswriting the child and adult in twentieth century international literature Sandra Beckett explores the multifaceted nature of crossover literature and the diverse ways in which writers cross the borders to address a dual readership of children and adults It considers classics such as Alice's Adventures in Wonderland and Pinocchio with particular emphasis on post World War II literature The essays in Transcending Boundaries clearly suggest that crossover literature is a major widespread trend that appears to be sharply on the rise Holocaust Literature: Agosin to Lentin S. Saving Truth From Paradox Hartry Field,2008-03-06 Saving Truth from Paradox is an ambitious investigation into paradoxes of truth and related issues with occasional forays into notions such as vagueness the nature of validity and the G del incompleteness theorems Hartry Field presents a new approach to the paradoxes and provides a systematic and detailed account of the main competing approaches Part One examines Tarski s Kripke s and Lukasiewicz s theories of truth and discusses validity and soundness and vagueness Part Two considers a wide range of attempts to resolve the paradoxes within classical logic In Part Three Field turns to non classical theories of truth that that restrict excluded middle He shows that there are theories of this sort in which the conditionals obey many of the classical laws and that all the semantic paradoxes not just the simplest ones can be handled consistently with the naive theory of truth In Part Four these theories are extended to the property theoretic paradoxes and to various other paradoxes and some issues about the understanding of the notion of validity are addressed Extended paradoxes involving the notion of determinate truth are treated very thoroughly and a number of different arguments that the theories lead to revenge problems are addressed Finally Part Five deals with dialetheic approaches to the paradoxes approaches which instead of restricting excluded middle accept certain contradictions but alter classical logic so as to keep them confined to a relatively remote part of the language Advocates of dialetheic theories have argued them to be better than theories that restrict excluded middle for instance over issues related to the incompleteness theorems and in avoiding revenge problems Field argues that dialetheists claims on behalf of their theories are quite unfounded and indeed that on some of these issues all current versions of dialetheism do substantially worse than the best theories that restrict excluded middle

Eternal God / Saving Time George Pattison,2015-01-29 Starting from the assumption that time is the horizon of the meaning of Being Heidegger Eternal God Saving Time attempts to discover what the central religious idea of eternity or of God as the Eternal might mean today Negotiating ideas of divine timelessness and sempiternity everlastingness as well as the attempts of some philosophers to develop the idea of a temporal God Professor George Pattison surveys a range of positions from analytic philosophy and from the continental tradition from Spinoza through Hegel to the present Intellectual and cultural forces have tended to separate time and eternity and both philosophical and theological examples of this tendency are examined Nevertheless starting from the experience of life in time some modern thinkers have developed a new approach to the Eternal as what grounds or gives time This leads through ideas of novelty utopia hope promise and call to the projection of a creative and transformative memory remembering the future that affirms human solidarity and mutual responsibility Even if this cannot be made good in terms of knowledge it offers a basis for hope prayer and commitment and these options are explored through a range of Christian Jewish Greek and secular thinkers This development re envisages the idea of redemption away from the Augustinian view that time is what we need to be rescued from and towards the idea that time itself might save us from all that is destructive and tyrannical in time s rule over human life

Saving Fear in Christian Spirituality Ann W. Astell, 2019-11-30 Hailed in Sacred Scripture as the beginning of wisdom Ps 111 10 the fear of the Lord is seldom mentioned and little understood today A gift of the Spirit and a moral virtue or disposition the fear of the Lord also frequently entails emotional experiences of differing kinds compunction dread reverence wonderment and awe Starting with the Bible itself this collection of seventeen essays explores the place of holy fear in Christian spirituality from the early church to the present and argues that this fear is paradoxically linked in various ways to fear s seeming opposite love Indeed the charged dynamic of love and fear accounts for different experiences and expressions of Christian life in response to changing historical circumstances and events The writings of the theologians mystics philosophers saints and artists studied here reveal the relationship between the fear and the love of God to be profoundly challenging and mysterious its elements paradoxically conjoined in a creative tension with each other but also tending to oscillate back and forth in the history of Christian spirituality as first one then the other comes to the fore sometimes to correct a perceived imbalance sometimes at the risk of losing its companion altogether Given this historical pattern clearly evident in these chronologically arranged essays the palpable absence of a discourse of holy fear from the mainstream theological landscape should give us pause and invite us to consider if and how under what aspect in which contexts a holy fear inseparable from love might be regained or discovered anew within Christian spirituality as a remedy both for a crippling anxiety and for a presumptive recklessness This book will be of interest to students and scholars of Christian spirituality theology biblical studies religious studies and religion and literature Contributors Ann W Astell Pieter G R de Villiers Donna R Hawk Reinhard John Sehorn Catherine Rose Cavadini Joseph Wawrykow Robert Boenig Ralph Keen Wendy M Wright Ephraim Radner Julia A Lamm Cyril O Regan Brenna Moore Maj Britt Frenze and Todd Walatka

Saving the World's Deciduous Forests Robert A. Askins, Robert Askins, 2014-03-25 Deciduous forests have been remarkably resilient throughout their history recovering from major shifts in climate and surviving periods of massive deforestation But today the world's great forests confront more ominous threats than ever before This visionary book is the first to examine forests consisting of oaks maples hickories beeches chestnuts birches and ecologically similar animals and plants on three continents East Asia Europe and North America to reveal their common origin back in time the ecological patterns they share and the approaches to conservation that have been attempted on their behalf Although these forests face common problems threats due to human activities vary Different land use and agricultural practices on the three continents as well as different attitudes about what is worth preserving have led to strikingly different approaches to forest conservation Robert Askins explores the strengths and weaknesses of conservation efforts across the continents and concludes that the ideal strategy for the future will blend the best ideas from each
