The Sense of an Interior Diana Fuss,2004-08-02 The Sense of an Interior is a fascinating exploration of domestic space and of the ways it determines how writers work The book looks at four famous figures Emily Dickinson Sigmund Freud Helen Keller and Marcel Proust and examines the relationship between their work and the spaces where they wrote The Sense of an Interior Diana Fuss,2004 Fuss brings us across the writer s threshold opening a door onto the hidden world where literature is produced These private home theaters for the rehearsal of language are each organized around a particular sensory challenge Dickinson who confined herself to the family homestead in Amherst suffered from periodic bouts of blindness Freud s famous consulting room in Vienna was arranged to compensate for his deafness in one ear Keller s home in Easton Connecticut became a place of danger and injury as old age and eczema gradually dulled her sensitivity to touch And Proust literary history s most acclaimed asthmatic distanced the bedroom of his Paris apartment from the odors of kitchen and courtyard to protect his delicate sense of smell BOOK JACKET

Interior Design Since 1900 (Fourth) (World of Art) Anne Massey,2020-04-14 Newly updated and overflowing with color this well established history of interior design describes and illustrates each movement and change in taste throughout the twentieth century Interior design experienced an extraordinary amount of changes in taste and style during the twentieth century From William Morris and the Arts and Crafts movement to expressionism postmodernism and green design Interior Design Since 1900 charts them all Featuring more than two hundred color illustrations of interiors from around the world this book reveals the fundamental changes in style that occurred throughout the century The 1900s saw the emergence of professional designers and a growing appetite to redesign homes to keep up with popular fashion In recent decades the focus has shifted toward public spaces and sustainable design In this survey Anne Massey explores the social political economic and cultural contexts of these developments This book has been a classic introduction to interior design for almost thirty years The new fourth edition is brought up to date with a chapter on transnational design encompassing midcentury modernist work in Singapore and Sri Lanka as well as more recent interior spaces including luxury hotels in Dubai and a contemporary art museum in Cape Town Through this book Massey shows how a shared language of design and cutting edge technology are reshaping interiors around the globe

Interiors and Narrative Estela Vieira,2012-12-17 Interiors and Narrative shows how crucial interiors are for our understanding of the nature of narrative A growing cultural fascination with interior dwelling so prevalent in the late nineteenth century parallels an intensification of the rhetorical function interior architecture plays in the development of fiction The existential dimension of dwelling becomes so intimately tied to the novelistic project that fiction surfaces as a way of inhabiting the world This study illustrates this through a comparative reading of three realist masterpieces of the Luso Hispanic nineteenth century Machado de Assis s Quincas Borba 1891 E a de Queir s s The Maias 1888 and Leopoldo Alas s La Regenta 1884 1885 The first full length study to juxtapose the renowned writers Interiors and Narrative analyzes the authors spatial poetics while offering new readings of their work The book explores the important links between interiors and narrative by explaining how rooms furnishings and homes function as metaphors for the writing of the narrative reflecting on the complex relation between private dwellings and human interiority and arguing that the interior design of rooms becomes a language that gives furnishings and decorative objects a narrative life of their own The story of homes and furnishings in these narratives creates a semiotic language that both readers and characters rely on in order to make sense of fiction and reality

The Private Lives of Pictures Nicholas Tromans, 2022-09-26 A novel art history of England told through the artworks on display in domestic space over hundreds of years The Private Lives of Pictures offers a new history of British art seen from the perspective of the home Focusing on the nineteenth and early twentieth century the book takes the reader on a tour of an imaginary Victorian or Edwardian house stopping in each room to look at the pictures on the walls Nicholas Tromans opens up the intimate history of art in everyday life as he examines a diverse array of issues including how pictures were chosen for each room how they were displayed and what role they played in interior design Superbly illustrated The Private Lives of Pictures will appeal to readers interested in both art and social history as well as the history of interiors

The Author's Effects Nicola J. Watson, 2020 A fascinating account of the emergence of the writer s house museum over the course of the nineteenth century in Britain Europe and North America It considers the museum as a cultural form and asks why it appeared and how it has constructed authorial afterlife for readers individually and collectively Metaphors of Confinement Monika Fludernik, 2019-08-13 Metaphors of Confinement The Prison in Fact Fiction and Fantasy offers a historical survey of imaginings of the prison as expressed in carceral metaphors in a range of texts about imprisonment from Antiquity to the present as well as non penal situations described as confining or restrictive These imaginings coalesce into a carceral imaginary that determines the way we think about prisons just as social debates about punishment and criminals feed into the way carceral imaginary develops over time Examining not only English language prose fiction but also poetry and drama from the Middle Ages to postcolonial particularly African literature the book juxtaposes literary and non literary contexts and contrasts fictional and nonfictional representations of imprisonment and discussions about the prison as institution and experiential reality It comments on present day trends of punitivity and foregrounds the ethical dimensions of penal punishment The main argument concerns the continuity of carceral metaphors through the centuries despite historical developments that included major shifts in policy such as the invention of the penitentiary The study looks at selected carceral metaphors often from two complementary perspectives such as the home as prison or the prison as home or the factory as prison and the prison as factory The case studies present particularly relevant genres and texts that employ these metaphors often from a historical perspective that analyses development through different periods

Transatlantic Literature and Author Love in the Nineteenth Century Paul Westover, Ann Wierda Rowland, 2016-09-22 This book is about Anglo American literary heritage It argues that readers on both sides of the Atlantic shaped the contours of international English in the 1800s expressing love for books and authors in a wide range of media and social practices It highlights how in the wake of American independence the affection bestowed on authors who became international objects of celebration and commemoration was a major force in the invention of transnational English literature the popular canon defined by shared language and tradition While love as such is difficult to quantify and recover the records of such affection survive not just in print but also in other media in monuments in architecture and in the ephemera of material culture Thus this collection brings into view a wide range of nineteenth century expressions of love for literature and its creators

Mark Twain's Homes and Literary Tourism Hilary Iris Lowe, 2012-07-20 A century after Samuel Clemens's death Mark Twain thrives One way fans still celebrate the first true American writer and his work is by visiting any number of Mark Twain destinations They believe they can learn something unique by visiting the places where he lived Mark Twain's Homes and Literary Tourism untangles the complicated ways that Clemens's houses now museums have come to tell the stories that they do about Twain and in the process reminds us that the sites themselves are the products of multiple agendas and in some cases unpleasant histories Hilary Iris Lowe leads us through four Twain homes beginning at the beginning Florida Missouri where Clemens was born Today the site is simply a concrete pedestal missing its bust a plaque and an otherwise empty field Though the original cabin where he was born likely no longer exists Lowe treats us to an overview of the history of the area and the state park challenged with somehow marking this site Next we travel with Lowe to Hannibal Missouri Clemens's childhood home which he saw become a tourist destination in his own lifetime Today mannequins remind visitors of the man that the boy who lived there became and the literature that grew out of his experiences in the house and little town on the Mississippi Hartford Connecticut boasts one of Clemens's only surviving adulthood homes the house where he spent his most productive years Lowe describes the house's construction its sale when the high cost of living led the family to seek residence abroad and its transformation into the museum Lastly we travel to Elmira New York where Clemens spent many summers with his family at Quarry Farm His study is the only room at this destination open to the public and yet tourists follow in the footsteps of literary pilgrim Rudyard Kipling to see this small space Literary historic sites pin their authority on the promise of exclusive insight into authors and texts through firsthand experience As tempting as it is to accept the authenticity of Clemens's homes Mark Twain's Homes and Literary Tourism argues that house museums are not reliable critical texts but are instead carefully constructed spaces designed to satisfy visitors This volume shows us how these houses' portrayals of Clemens change frequently to accommodate and shape our own expectations of the author and his work

British Boarding Houses in Interwar Women's Literature Terri Mullholland, 2016-10-04 Embraced for the dramatic opportunities afforded by a house full of strangers the British boarding house emerged as a setting for novels published during the interwar period by a diverse range of women writers from Stella Gibbons to Virginia Woolf To use the single room in the boarding house or bedsit Terri Mullholland argues is to foreground a particular experience While the single room represents the freedoms of independent living available to women in the early twentieth century it also marks the precariousness of unmarried women's lives By placing their characters in this transient space women writers could explore women's changing social roles and complex experiences amateur prostitution lesbian relationships extra marital affairs and abortion outside traditional domestic narrative concerns Mullholland presents new readings of works by canonical and non canonical writers including Stella Gibbons Winifred Holtby Storm Jameson Rosamond Lehmann Dorothy Richardson Jean Rhys and Virginia Woolf A hybrid of the modernist and realist domestic fiction written and read by women the literature of the single room merges modernism's interest in interior psychological states with the realism of precisely documented exterior spaces offering a new mode of engagement with the two forms of interiority James McNeill Whistler and

France Suzanne Singletary, 2016-11-18 James McNeill Whistler and France A Dialogue in Paint Poetry and Music is the first full length and in depth study to position this painter within the overall trajectory of French modernism during the second half of the nineteenth century and to view the artist as integral to the aesthetic projects of its most original contributors Suzanne M Singletary maintains that Whistler was in a unique situation as an insider within the emerging French avant garde thereby in an enviable position to both absorb and transform the innovations of others and that until now his widespread influence as a catalyst among his colleagues has been neither investigated nor appreciated Singletary contends that Whistler's importance rivals that of Manet whose multi layered and often unexpected interconnections with Whistler are the focus of one chapter In addition Whistler's pivotal role in linking the legacies of Baudelaire Delacroix Gautier Wagner and other mid century innovators to the later French Symbolists has previously been largely ignored Courbet Degas Monet and Seurat complete the roster of French artists whose dialogue with Whistler is highlighted Love, Mortality and the

Moving Image E. Wilson, 2012-02-21 In their use of home movies collages of photographs and live footage moving image artists explore the wish to see dead loved ones living This study closely explores emotions and sensations surrounding mortality and longing with new readings of works by Agn s Varda Pedro Almod var Ingmar Bergman Sophie Calle and many others

Market Strategies and German Literature in the Long Nineteenth Century Vance Byrd, Ervin Malakaj, 2020-01-20 Building upon recent German Studies research addressing the industrialization of printing the expansion of publication venues new publication formats and readership Market Strategies maps a networked literary field in which the production promotion and reception of literature from the Enlightenment to World War II emerges as a collaborative enterprise driven by the interests of actors and institutions These essays demonstrate how a network of authors editors and publishers devised mutually beneficial and at times conflicting strategies for achieving success on the rapidly evolving nineteenth century German literary market In particular the contributors consider how these actors shaped a nineteenth century literary market which included the Jewish press highbrow and lowbrow genres and modernist publications They explore the tensions felt as markets expanded and restrictions were imposed which yielded resilient new publication strategies fostered criticism and led to formal innovations The volume thus serves as major contribution to interdisciplinary research in nineteenth century German literary media and cultural studies
