Sensing In Machines:

Sensing Machines Chris Salter, 2022-04-19 How we are tracked surveilled tantalized and seduced by machines ranging from smart watches and Roombas to immersive art installations Sensing machines are everywhere in our world As we move through the day electronic sensors and computers adjust our thermostats guide our Roombas count our steps change the orientation of an image when we rotate our phones There are more of these electronic devices in the world than there are people in 2020 thirty to fifty billion of them versus 7.8 billion people with more than a trillion expected in the next decade In Sensing Machines Chris Salter examines how we are tracked surveilled tantalized and seduced by machines ranging from smart watches and mood trackers to massive immersive art installations Salter an artist scholar who has worked with sensors and computers for more than twenty years explains that the quantification of bodies senses and experience did not begin with the surveillance capitalism practiced by Facebook Amazon Netflix and Google but can be traced back to mathematical and statistical techniques of the nineteenth century He describes the emergence of the sensed self investigating how sensor technology has been deployed in music and gaming programmable and immersive art environments driving and even eating with e tongues and e noses that can taste and smell for us Sensing technology turns our experience into data but Salter's story isn't just about what these machines want from us but what we want from them new sensations the thrill of the uncanny and magic that will transport us from our daily grind

Sensing Machines Chris Salter, 2022 Sensing Machines shows how sensors and artificial intelligence transform our lives from driving and playing games to the ways we eat sleep and dream
