Cumulation, 1989 Neil E. Walker, Beverly Baer, 1990-04 The Index provides a broad coverage and access to book reviews in the general social sciences humanities sciences and fine arts as well as general interest magazines and includes journals from Great Britain Canada Switzerland Israel and Australia In addition it indexes several journals that while published in the US concentrate on reviewing foreign published or foreign language books These include Hispania French Review German Quarterly and World Literature Today Feminism and the Politics of Literary Reputation Charlotte Templin, 1995 Soon after its publication in 1973 Fear of Flying brought Erica Jong immense popular success and media fame Alternately pegged sassy and vulgar Jong's novel embraced the politics of the women's liberation movement and challenged the definition of female sexuality Yet today more than twenty years and several books later literary reputation continues for the most part to elude Jong Typecast by her adversaries as a media seeking sensationalist Erica Jong has been unfairly side stepped by academia Charlotte Templin contends In this carefully researched study augmented by personal interviews with Jong Templin assembles and analyzes the medley of responses to Jong's books by reviewers critics writers academics and the media by liberals conservatives and feminists She examines the diverse opinions on the merit and relevance to contemporary life of Fear of Flying the invocation of a high culture low culture dichotomy to discredit How to Save Your Own Life the anatomy of literary success with Fanny Jong's reception in a postfeminist age and the trivialization of Jong's works that is inevitable with mass media exposure Templin also shows how antagonistic reviewers tend to identify Jong with her fictitious characters a practice more common when the author is a woman and judge her to be guilty of the sin of not being a proper woman In turn she shows how reviewers reveal something of their own values and ideological biases in their critiques and how literary reputations are built destroyed and altered over time The first book to make a detailed examination of the reputation of a woman writer Feminism and the Politics of Literary Reputation provides an excellent case study for the literary reception of women writers within a broad cultural context Templin's analysis offers valuable insight into the reception of women writers especially commercially successful women writers and dramatically illustrates the relation of literary reputation to popular appeal and cultural mores Instrumentalists and Renaissance Culture, 1420-1600

Victor Coelho, Keith Polk, 2016-05-26 This innovative and multi layered study of the music and culture of Renaissance instrumentalists spans the early institutionalization of instrumental music from c 1420 to the rise of the basso continuo and newer roles for instrumentalists around 1600 Employing a broad cultural narrative interwoven with detailed case studies close readings of eighteen essential musical sources and analysis of musical images Victor Coelho and Keith Polk show that instrumental music formed a vital and dynamic element in the artistic landscape from rote function to creative fantasy Instrumentalists occupied a central role in courtly ceremonies and private social rituals during the Renaissance and banquets

dances processions religious celebrations and weddings all required their participation regardless of social class Instrumental genres were highly diverse artistic creations from polyphonic repertoires revealing knowledge of notated styles to improvisation and flexible practices Understanding the contributions of instrumentalists is essential for any accurate assessment of Renaissance culture The Formation of a National Audience in Italy, 1750–1890 Gabriella Romani, Jennifer Burns, 2017-06-06 The late eighteenth and the nineteenth centuries witness significant advancement in the production and crucially the consumption of culture in Italy During the long process towards and beyond Italy becoming a nation state in 1861 new modes of writing and performing the novel the self help manual theatrical improvisation develop in response to new practices and technologies of production and distribution Key to the emergence of an inclusive national audience in Italy is however the audience itself A wide and varied body of consumers of culture animated by the notion of an Italian national cultural identity create in this period an increasingly complex demand for different cultural products This body is energized by the wider access to education and to the Italian language brought about by educational reforms by growing urbanization by enhanced social mobility and by transcultural connections across European borders This book investigates this process analyzing the ways in which authors composers publishers performers journalists and editors engage with the anxieties and aspirations of their diverse audiences Fourteen essays by specialists in the field exploring individual contexts and cases demonstrate how interests related to gender social class cultural background and practices of reading and spectatorship exert determining influence upon the production of culture in this period They describe how women men and children from across the social and regional strata of the emerging nation contribute incrementally but actively to the idea and the growing reality of an Italian national cultural life They show that from newspapers to salon performances from letters to treatises in social science from popular novels to literary criticism from philosophical discussions to opera theaters there is evidence in Italy in this period of unprecedented participation crossing academic and popular cultures in the formation of a national audience in Italy This cultural transformation later produces the mass culture in Italy which underpins the major movements of the twentieth century and which undergoes new challenges and reformulations in the Italy we know today

Transnational Italian Studies Charles Burdett, Loredana Polezzi, 2020-07-17 Transnational Italian Studies is specifically targeted at a student audience and is designed to be used as a key text when approaching the disciplinary field of Italian studies It allows the study of Italian culture to be construed and practised not simply as the inquiry into a national tradition but as the study of the interaction of cultural practices both within Italy itself and in those parts of the world that have witnessed the extent of Italian mobility The text argues that Italian culture needs to be considered in a transnational transcultural perspective and that an understanding of linguistic and cultural translation underlies all approaches to the study of Italian culture in a global context Contributions deploy a range of methodological approaches to understand and illustrate how language operates how culture inhabits and constitutes public and private space how notions of time operate within people's lives and the multiple ways in which people experience a sense of personhood. Chapters stretch from the medieval period to the present and demonstrate how transnational Italian culture can be critically addressed through the examination of carefully chosen examples. Contributors: Alessandra Diazzi, Andrea Rizzi, Barbara Spadaro, Charles Burdett, Clorinda Donato, David Bowe, Derek Duncan, Donna Gabaccia, Eugenia Paulicelli, Fabio Camilletti, Giuliana Muscio, Jennifer Burns, Loredana Polezzi, Marco Santello, Monica Jansen, Naomi Wells, Nathalie Hester, Serena Bassi, Stefania Tufi, Teresa Fiore, and Tristan Kay. American Book Prices Current, 1912. The book, edited by Stefania Gialdroni, Albrecht Cordes, Serge Dauchy, Dave De Ruyscher and Heikki Pihlajamäki, takes advantage of the expertise of leading scholars in different fields of study: in particular, historians, legal historians and linguists. Thanks to this transdisciplinary approach, the book offers a fresh point of view on the history of commercial law in different cultural and geographical contexts, including medieval Cairo, Pisa, Novgorod, Lebeck, early modern England, Venice, Bruges, nineteenth-century Brazil and many other trading centers.
