What Can We Believe? James L. Killen, 2010. In each Sunday's assigned lectionary readings, the First, Second, and Gospel lessons, we are invited to view the glorious narrative of scripture through three different yet harmonious perspectives. In the second lesson, we become witnesses to the growth and development of the early church as described in the epistles of Paul and the other apostles. As the early Christians take their first steps in their faith, we too learn how to travel on our own journey with Christ. As part of the Sermons on the Second Readings Series III Cycle A series, What Can We Believe guides us through the last third of the season of Pentecost as James L. Killen Jr. explores the second lessons from Proper 23 through Thanksgiving, bringing the lectionary cycle year to its conclusion. This collection of sermons is a valuable resource for sermon starters and illuminating illustrations, gaining a new homiletical perspective to the lectionary. Offering a newer, deeper understanding and appreciation of scripture, using as a starter for adult Bible study groups or personal devotions. This insightful collection of sermons includes What Can We Believe about the Christian Life, What Can We Believe about the Reign of Christ, What Can We Believe about Stuff, and many more.
