Family Life in China William R. Jankowiak,Robert L. Moore,2016-11-28 The family has long been viewed as both a microcosm of the state and a barometer of social change in China It is no surprise therefore that the dramatic changes experienced by Chinese society over the past century have produced a wide array of new family systems Where a widely accepted Confucian based ideology once offered a standard framework for family life current ideas offer no such uniformity Ties of affection rather than duty have become prominent in determining what individuals feel they owe to their spouses parents children and others Chinese millennials facing a world of opportunities and at the same time feeling a sense of heavy obligation are reshaping patterns of courtship marriage and filiality in ways that were not foreseen by their parents nor by the authorities of the Chinese state Those whose roots are in the countryside but who have left their homes to seek opportunity and adventure in the city face particular pressures as do the children and elders they have left behind The authors explore this diversity focusing on rural vs urban differences regionalism and ethnic diversity within China Family Life in China presents new perspectives on what the current changes in this institution imply for a rapidly changing society

People's Republic of China, Volumes I and II Frank N. The Subversive Self in Modern Chinese Literature C. Keaveney, 2004-07-15 An examination of whether Chinese writers of the Creation Society a Chinese literary coterie successfully appropriated shishosetsu a quintessentially Japanese form of autobiographical narrative into a form to be exploited for their own ends especially political ends

Women's Rights, Human Rights J. S. Peters, Andrea Wolper, 2018-05-11 This comprehensive and important volume includes contributions by activists journalists lawyers and scholars from twenty one countries The essays map the directions the movement for women's rights is taking and will take in the coming decades and the concomitant transformation of prevailing notions of rights and issues They address topics such as the rapes in former Yugoslavia and efforts to see that a War Crimes Tribunal responds domestic violence trafficking of women into the sex trade the persecution of lesbians female genital mutilation and reproductive rights

Modern Chinese Writers Helmut Martin, Jeffrey C. Kinkley, 2016-09-16 This volume gathers personal reflections on life and literature by 44 of China's leading authors It aims to illustrate how Chinese society and its creative writing have supported competed and fought with each other for the past 40 years and more Much of what is revealed here is mundane but the pressure of bringing art to social and political causes indeed the universal pressure to survive forges this collection into a very human document The strengths and weaknesses of these essays offer a window on those of modern Chinese literature itself Realism was the favoured literary doctrine of the day and reflecting this most of these essays speak for themselves about war revolution betrayal and commitment      Years of Sadness Anyi Wang, 2011-03-31 This anthology focuses on autobiographical works by Wang Anyi the most prolific and critically acclaimed woman writer in contemporary China highlighting a personal and emotional dimension of her writing that is essential to a deeper understanding of her creativity and productivity The three pieces selected for this volume A Woman Writer s Sense of Self Utopian Verses and Years of Sadness explore some of the most fundamental and complex issues concerning Wang s identity as a woman and as a writer in early post socialist China the creative and emotional challenges she faced during her sojourn in the United States in the early 1980s and her memories of adolescent years a period of obsession uncertainty and loneliness during the Cultural Revolution
