annual The Best American Poetry is the most prestigious showcase of new poetry in the United States and Canada Each year since the series began in 1988 David Lehman has contributed a foreword and this has evolved into a sort of state of the art address that surveys new developments and explores various matters facing poets and their readers today This book collects all twenty nine forewords including the two written for the retrospective Best of the Best volumes for the tenth and twenty fifth anniversaries Beginning with a new introduction by Lehman and a foreword by poet Denise Duhamel guest editor for The Best American Poetry 2013 the collection conveys a sense of American poetry in the making year by year over the course In the Frame Jane Hedley, Nick Halpern, Willard Spiegelman, 2009 The subject of In the Frame is poetic ekphrasis poems whose starting point or source of inspiration is a work of visual art The authors of these sixteen essays several of whom are poets as well as critics have a twofold purpose calling attention to the contribution women poets have made to this important genre of poetic writing and re thinking ekphrastic poetry's motives and purposes From Marianne Moore and Elizabeth Bishop to Mary Jo Salter C D Wright and Susan Wheeler many of our best women poets have done important work in this genre and when they describe confront or speak for an image that is itself wordless their motives are not only formal but aesthetic Their poems also raise important questions from a perspective that is often but not always gender inflected about how art is made and displayed experienced and valued celebrated and commodified Jane Hedley is K Laurence Stapleton Professor of English at Bryn Mawr College Willard Spiegelman is the Hughes Professor of English at Southern Methodist University and editor in chief of the Southwest Review Nick Halpem is an associate professor in the English Department at North Carolina State University A Rhetoric of Reflection Kathleen Yancey, 2016-08-15 Reflection in writing studies is now entering a third generation Dating from the 1970s the first generation of reflection focused on identifying and describing internal cognitive processes assumed to be part of composing The second generation operating in both classroom and assessment scenes in the 1990s developed mechanisms for externalizing reflection making it visible and thus explicitly available to help writers Now a third generation of work in reflection is emerging As mapped by the contributors to A Rhetoric of Reflection this iteration of research and practice is taking up new questions in new sites of activity and with new theories It comprises attention to transfer of writing knowledge and practice teaching and assessment portfolios linguistic and cultural difference and various media including print and digital It conceptualizes conversation as a primary reflective medium both inside and outside the classroom and for individuals and collectives and articulates the role that different genres play in hosting reflection Perhaps most important in the work of this third generation is the identification and increasing appreciation of the epistemic value of reflection of its ability to help make new meanings and of its rhetorical power for both scholars and students Contributors Anne Beaufort Kara Taczak Liane Robertson Michael Neal Heather Ostman Cathy Leaker Bruce Horner Asao B Inoue Tyler Richmond J Elizabeth Clark Naomi Silver Christina Russell McDonald Pamela Flash Kevin Roozen Jeff Sommers Doug Hesse Poems to the Child-God Kenneth E.

Bryant, 2024-06-14 Poems to the Child God is the first full length study in English of the verse of Surdas or Sur traditionally ranked among the three greatest poets writing in Hindi Combining introduction critical study and annotated translation in a single volume this work introduces the general reader to a major sixteenth century mystic poet best known for his lyrics in praise of the child god Krsna Krishna and proposes to both specialists and general readers a way of reading Sur s verse significantly different from that found in traditional critical approaches A general introduction provides an overview of the poet s life and time the religious and literary milieu that informed his work and the mythology associated with his chosen deity Krsna Part 1 looks closely at individual verses from the Sursagar examining the ways in which the poet manipulates the structures of language poetic convention and mythology to develop a theme central to the literature of Krsna worship the irony of incarnation It is Bryant argues the irony of a child who never stops growing beyond manhood and into godhood seldom glimpsing the still more awesome truth that he is and has always been the source and substance of the universe Part 2 presents an anthology of Sur's verse in English translation The poems have been arranged to portray the Krsna tale as Sur understood it Sectional introductions provide the reader with the classical outlines of the tale and point out where the poet made alterations or embellishments of his own A set of notes on the translations and a glossary of potentially unfamiliar terms and characters further assist the Western reader in approaching the work of a major figure in the religious and literary history of India This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1978 Index to The World's Greatest Literature ,1902 Index to the World's Great Classics, 1902
