The Coffin of Heqata Harco Willems, 1996 The coffin published in this book represents a type that had some popularity in southern Upper Egypt in the early Middle Kingdom but which despite its extraordinary decoration had not attracted attention so far The most striking feature of the decoration is that the object friezes the pictorial rendering of ritual implements usually found on coffin interiors of the period also include complete ritual scenes some of which are attested only here Apart from this the decoration includes an extensive selection of the religious texts known as the Coffin Texts The author first studies the archaeological context and dating of the coffin and attempts a reconstruction of the construction procedures from his technical description of the monument The detailed account of the decoration in the rest of the book interprets the ritual iconography and offers fresh translations and interpretations of the Coffin Texts A methodological innovation is that he regards the scenes and texts not as individual decoration elements but as components of an integral composition The background of this composition is argued to be a view of life in the hereafter in which the deceased is involved in an unending cycle of ritual action which reflects the funerary rituals that were actually performed on earth On the one hand these netherworldly rituals aim at bringing the deceased to new life by mummification on the other the newly regenerated deceased partakes in embalming rituals for gods representing his dead father Osiris or Atum These gods in their turn effectuate the deceased's regeneration The entire process results in a cycle of resuscitation in which the afterlife of the deceased and of the father gods are interdependent The sociological bias of this interpretation with its emphasis on kinship relations differs significantly from earlier attempts to explain Egyptian funerary religion

Dakhleh Oasis and the Western Desert of Egypt under the Ptolemies James C. R. Gill, 2016-07-08 Through an analysis of recently discovered Ptolemaic pottery from Mut al Kharab as well as a reexamination of pottery collected by the Dakhleh Oasis Project during the survey of the oasis from 1978-1987 this book challenges the common perception that Dakhleh Oasis experienced a sudden increase in agricultural exploitation and a dramatic rise in population during the Roman Period It argues that such changes had already begun to take place during the Ptolemaic Period likely as the result of a deliberate strategy directed toward this region by the Ptolemies This book focuses on the ceramic remains in order to determine the extent of Ptolemaic settlement in the oases and to offer new insights into the nature of this settlement It presents a corpus of Ptolemaic pottery and a catalogue of Ptolemaic sites from Dakhleh Oasis It also presents a survey of Ptolemaic evidence from the oases of Kharga Farafra Bahariya and Siwa It thus represents the first major synthesis of Ptolemaic Period activity in the Egyptian Western Desert

The Gordion Wooden Objects, Volume 1 The Furniture from Tumulus MM (2-vol. set) Elizabeth Simpson, 2010-12-15 The Furniture from Tumulus MM The Gordion Wooden Objects volume 1 is a study of the furniture from the largest tomb at Gordion Turkey excavated in 1957 by the University of Pennsylvania Museum The tomb dates to the eighth century BC and is thought to be the burial of the great Phrygian king Midas or his father The objects initially misunderstood are now identified as nine tables two serving stands two stools a chair and an open log coffin

Three pieces are ornately carved and inlaid with religious symbols and complex geometric motifs. The wooden objects from Gordion are now recognized as the most important collection of well preserved wooden artifacts excavated from the Near East. Blanchette, Roland Cunningham, Laure Dussubieux, Patrick E. McGovern, Benjamin Held, Walter Hopwood, Joseph Koles, Lynn E. Roller, Krysia Spirydowicz. As the Gods Kill, Andrew K. Scherer, 2025-12-09. An exploration of war, violence, and sacrifice in precolonial Maya culture and its importance in religious practices. As the Gods Kill delivers new insights into warfare, weaponry, violence, and human sacrifice among the ancient Maya. While attending to the particularity of a singular historical context, anthropologist and archaeologist Andrew Scherer also suggests that Maya practices have something to tell us about human propensities toward violence more broadly. Focusing on moral frameworks surrounding deliberate injury and killing, Scherer examines Maya justifications of violence, in particular the obligations to one another, to ancestors, and to the gods that made violence not only permissible but necessary. The analysis isolates key themes underpinning the morality of violence, including justice, vengeance, payment, and costumbre (ritual) and explores the ethics of violent agents, including warriors, ritual specialists, and the gods. Finally, Scherer addresses motivations for warfare, including the acquisition of spoils, tribute, captives, and slaves. An interdisciplinary case study of morality in an ancient society, As the Gods Kill synthesizes scholarship on an important dimension of precolonial American culture while taking stock of its implications for the social sciences at large.

The Art of Medieval Jewelry, T.N. Pollio, 2021-09-30. What are the origins of the imagery and designs on common jewelry and portable artwork between late antiquity and the Middle Ages? These dynamic centuries encompass the transformation of the Greco-Roman world into the nascent kingdoms and medieval states upon which most modern European nations are based. The choices of jewelry and other forms of personal expression among the lower classes in ancient times is notoriously difficult to contextualize for a number of reasons. Nonetheless, these precious articles were expressions of individual identity as well as signifiers of rites of passage. As such, they reflect not only the people who wore them but also the social milieu and artistic trends at that moment in time This new study assists in identifying the types origins and routes of transmission of personal artwork particularly finger rings across Europe and Byzantium an area of study that has been neglected in previous works Some of this material represents the first time relevant research from Central and Eastern Europe has been translated and made available to the general reader in the English speaking world
