Transnational Conflicts and International Law Constantin von der Groeben, 2014-11-06 Ever since 9 11 the legal classification of transnational conflicts between states and non state armed groups such as Al Qaeda has become a highly debated topic While repeatedly referred to as the War on Terror the legal qualification of the conflict between the US and Al Qaeda remains controversial US military operations in Afghanistan against Al Qaeda and the use of drones against alleged terrorists in Pakistan Yemen and other states pose the question as to whether this conflict truly qualifies as one single global war Similarly transnational conflicts such as the Colombian operation against a FARC base in Ecuador Israel's fight against Hezbollah in Lebanon and Turkish operations against the PKK in northern Iraq pose difficulties as they transcend individual nations political systems and geographical borders Whether the law of war i.e. humanitarian law is applicable to such conflicts and to what extent human rights law binds the states involved is debated This work aims to provide structure to the current debate and analyzes the applicability of both humanitarian law and human rights law Furthermore it examines and explores approaches to enhance and develop the existing legal framework including proposed new legal regimes for transnational conflicts The author argues against the strict separation of international humanitarian law and human rights law and instead borrows from Colombian authorities experience in their struggle with the FARC to develop an alternate solution combining both legal regimes in an integrated approach

Franz Werfel: Bibliography of German Editions John M.

Spalek, 2009-10-16 This volume is the first comprehensive bibliography of all Werfel publications in German language and thus a complete history of the publication of Werfel's works. All works are arranged alphabetically by title followed by all other editions grouped by publisher. Each bibliographical entry contains the edition's designation, all the information from the title sheet, a description of the volume, the location, and detailed explanatory notes. East Asian-German Cinema Joanne

Miyang Cho, 2021-09-29 This is the first edited volume dedicated to the study of East Asian German cinema. Its coverage ranges from 1919 to the present, a period which has witnessed an unprecedented degree of global entanglement between Germany and East Asia. In analyzing this hybrid cinema, this volume employs a transnational approach which highlights the nations' cinematic encounters and entanglements. It reveals both German perceptions of East Asia and East Asian perceptions of Germany through analysis of works by both German directors and East Asian directors. It is hoped that this volume will not only accelerate cross-cultural exchange but also provide a wider perspective that helps film scholars to see the broader contexts in which these films are produced. It introduces multiple compelling topics: not just immigration, multiculturalism, and exile, but also Japonisme, children's literature, musical modernity, media hybridity, gender representation, urban space, Cold War divisions, and national identity. It addresses several genres: feature films, essay films, and documentary films. Lastly, by embracing three East Asian cinemas in one volume, this volume serves as an excellent introduction for German cinema students and scholars. It will appeal to international and interdisciplinary audiences as its contributors represent multiple disciplines and four world regions. The Social Nature of Man - falsifiable / Die soziale Natur des Menschen - falsifizierbar Peter Schlötter, 2018-02-01

The author's fundamental empirical study of system constellations with life-sized figures from the year 2005 could also be realised in China in 2015. In this book, he proves that the perception of the position in a space actually follows the generally comprehensible semantics of a language and this is hardly any different in China than it is in Germany. Thus, gestural language can be described as a global language. It is concerned with the exploration of the social nature of man as well as human social gravitational forces with the help of the new research discipline, sociothesie. Thereby, the concept of a social affected space can be empirically substantiated. Die grundlegende empirische Studie des Autors über Systemaufstellungen mit lebensgroßen Figuren aus dem Jahr 2005 konnte 2015 auch in China realisiert werden. Er weist in diesem Buch nach, dass die Wahrnehmung der Position im Raum tatsächlich der allgemein verständlichen Semantik einer Sprache folgt und dies in China kaum anders ist als in Deutschland. Die Zeichensprache kann demnach als Weltsprache bezeichnet werden. Es geht um die Erforschung der sozialen Natur des Menschen sowie der humanen sozialen Schwerkräfte mit Hilfe der neuen Forschungsdisziplin Soziothesie. Damit kann das Konzept eines sozialen Wirkraumes empirisch begründet werden.
