The Full Circle Zhuanglin Hu, 2024-06-24 This book is a progressive exposition on Halliday's academic thought and its origins by the renowned linguist Hu Zhuanglin based on 30 years of research. The first part, Chinese Origin, introduces readers to the author's gradual understanding that Halliday's academic thought mainly came from Chinese scholars such as Wang Li, Luo Changpei, and Gao Mingkai. In the 1980s, Halliday and his students introduced the theory of Systemic Functional Linguistics into the foreign language and linguistics circles in China, thus Halliday's academic thought returned to where it originated. The second part, A Discussion of Theories, mainly addresses the author's experience and further discussions after learning Halliday's theory. The theme of the third part is Discourse Analysis and focuses on the greatest difference between Systemic Functional Linguistics and traditional grammar: sentence grammar. Halliday emphasizes the study of discourse and sentences are only the embodiment of discourse at the next level. The fourth part, The Study of Chinese, applies Halliday's linguistic theory to the evolution of the research of the Chinese language in China, which can better explain the theme of return and is of great significance for Chinese scholars' understanding and application of Halliday's academic thought.

The Arabic Contributions to the English Language Garland Hampton Cannon, Alan S. Kaye, 1994 The largest and most up-to-date collection of English words and multiword units borrowed from the Arabic directly or indirectly, totalling 2338 items. All major dictionaries in English were surveyed, including new word collections and college dictionaries. Each dictionary entry gives the first recorded date of the loan in English, the semantic field, variant forms, etymology, the English definitions, derivative forms, and sometimes grammatical comment. The major sources of each entry are noted along with the approximate degree of assimilation in English. A substantial part of the book is devoted to nontechnical analytical essays which treat the forty-six semantic areas so as to embrace all disciplines and throw light on the individual subject. Other essays treat the phonological and linguistic aspects of the data so as to show how languages in contact interact and ultimately influence each other's culture. This is a wide-ranging, innovative book that advances the study of comprehensive borrowing within languages over the centuries.
