Crying Men Sam Taylor-Wood, 2004 Crying Men is a series of photographic portraits of famous film actors Taylor Johnson makes portraits of her subjects as actors she shoots them in role asking each to perform and cry for the camera and demands the actor's investment in the process These are no passive sitters Each of the resulting images is distinct one actor recalls the hieratic clarity of a Byzantine saint whose tears appear decorative Other images are of heroic crying where stoic restraint has broken down there are some that display the voluptuous crying of medieval saints there are images of cathartic crying quiet tears of regret and grief and yet whilst being moved by these intimate revelatory images we simultaneously know that the emotional display is being playacted Sam Taylor Johnson's film and photographic works are distinguished by their subversive creation of enigmatic situations full of latent but explosive energy The portraits include Tim Roth Gabriel Byrne Laurence Fishburne Woody Harrelson Michael Gambon Jude Law Hayden Christiansen Ryan Gosling Robert Downey Jr Paul Newman Ed Harris Benicio Del Toro Willem Dafoe and Kris Kristofferson

Rewind, Play, Fast Forward Henry Keazor, Thorsten Wübbena, 2015-07-15 Due to shifts in the contexts of the production and presentation of the music video more and more people start to talk about a possible end of this genre At the same time disciplines such as visual film and media studies art and music history begin to realize that despite the fact that the music video obviously has come of age they still lack a well defined and matching methodical approach for analyzing and discussing videoclips For the first time this volume brings together different disciplines as well as journalists museum curators and gallery owners in order to take a discussion of the past and present of the music video as an opportunity to reflect upon suited methodological approaches to this genre and to allow a glimpse into its future

Celebrity and the Media Sean Redmond, 2013-11-26 An engaging introduction to the key terms concepts dilemmas and issues that are central to the study and critical understanding of celebrity exploring the impacts of celebrity culture on the modern media and examining the influence that celebrity has on the way people place themselves in the modern world

Weeping Britannia Thomas Dixon, 2015-09-10 There is a persistent myth about the British that we are a nation of stoics with stiff upper lips repressed emotions and inactive lachrymal glands Weeping Britannia the first history of crying in Britain comprehensively debunks this myth Far from being a persistent element in the national character the notion of the British stiff upper lip was in fact the product of a relatively brief and militaristic period of our past from about 1870 to 1945 In earlier times we were a nation of proficient sometimes virtuosic moral weepers To illustrate this perhaps surprising fact Thomas Dixon charts six centuries of weeping Britons and theories about them from the medieval mystic Margery Kempe in the early fifteenth century to Paul Gascoigne's famous tears in the semi finals of the 1990 World Cup In between the book includes the tears of some of the most influential figures in

British history from Oliver Cromwell to Margaret Thatcher not forgetting George III Queen Victoria Charles Darwin and Winston Churchill along the way But the history of weeping in Britain is not simply one of famous tear stained individuals These tearful micro histories all contribute to a bigger picture of changing emotional ideas and styles over the centuries touching on many other fascinating areas of our history For instance the book also investigates the histories of painting literature theatre music and the cinema to discover how and why people have been moved to tears by the arts from the sentimental paintings and novels of the eighteenth century and the romantic music of the nineteenth to Hollywood weepies expressionist art and pop music in the twentieth century Weeping Britannia is simultaneously a museum of tears and a philosophical handbook using history to shed new light on the changing nature of Britishness over time as well as the ever shifting ways in which we express and understand our emotional lives The story that emerges is one in which a previously rich religious and cultural history of producing and interpreting tears was almost completely erased by the rise of a stoical and repressed British empire in the late nineteenth century Those forgotten philosophies of tears and feeling can now be rediscovered In the process readers might perhaps come to view their own tears in a different light as something more than mere emotional incontinence
