Sam Hunt Sam Hunt, 1980 Collected Poems Bryan Crawford, 2023-01-06 Having lived in New Zealand Britain and Germany the author is amply experienced to comment on various aspects of British New Zealand and German culture Currently living in Germany he visits Britain frequently His interests include indigenous cultures and music sponsorship in Britain and abroad Here is a book of poems that will amuse and educate adults as well as older children The poems cover a range of topics from young children to threatened species and poems from classical Greek and Roman mythology There are different cultures portrayed in a positive light while the best ideas taken from the worlds of psychology stress management and values reflecting religious principles are incorporated in an often amusing way If you want an easy read on the train or to relax with at home this is a book that will entertain and give a feeling of hope and happiness in a world that often presents us with difficulties or perplexing problems Doubtless Sam Hunt, 2008 Old favourites and new poems from New Zealand's best loved performance poet Selected Poems Sam Hunt, 1987 Coming To It SAM. HUNT, 2018-08-20 Sam Hunt is New Zealand's best known and arguably best loved poet Coming to it Selected poems is the latest collection of Hunt's poems to be published It is intended to replace both Doubtless New and selected and Knucklebones Poems 1962 2012 both out of print to ensure that a substantial selection of his poems remain available to the general reader In Coming to it a broad selection of Hunt's older poems sit ahead of his more recent work from Chords 2011 Salt River Songs 2016 as well as 19 brand new previously unpublished poems written in 2018 As always Hunt's unflinchingly honest elegiac and moving poems roam around familiar themes of family friends and lovers landscapes and the play of the weather and the challenges of ageing and mortality Sam Hunt has had a remarkable and enduring career and Coming to it is a fitting tribute to the quality of his poems Songs of Ourselves Cambridge International Examinations, 2014-07-31 This series contains poetry and prose anthologies composed of writers from across the English speaking world Whole Men Kai Jensen, 1996 Kai Jensen takes a provocative look at masculinity in New Zealand literature He argues that New Zealand writing around the Second World War was shaped by excitement about masculinity as a way of challenging society Inspired partly by Marxism writers such as A R D Fairburn Denis Glover John Mulgan and Frank Sargeson linked national identity to the ordinary working man or soldier and attempted to merge artistic activity and manliness in a new ideal the whole man This masculine excitement forged a literary and intellectual culture which was powerful for thirty years and which discouraged women writers Jensen suggests that the aftermath of masculinism still influences the way New Zealand intellectuals see themselves and that the masculine tradition survives in the writing of Owen Marshall Sam Hunt Maurice Shadbolt and even Maurice Gee At the same time he argues that masculinism underwent a process of change after its high point in the 1940s Frank Sargeson's closeted homosexuality posed a complex problem for the masculine tradition and its historians and James K Baxter's symbolic Jungian poetry was also hard to reconcile with the idea that men's writing must be based on robust experience Yet Baxter prepared the masculine tradition for the 1960s and 1970s by renovating the whole man as bohemian lover Whole Men is not just about one literary movement but about how literary culture works and how New Zealand intellectuals construct their identities
