The background of the slide is a dark, atmospheric illustration of a three-masted sailing ship, likely a pirate ship, navigating through a turbulent sea. The ship is silhouetted against a lighter, cloudy sky. The entire scene is viewed through a cracked, textured surface that resembles old glass or a map, with a prominent dark, branching crack running from the top right corner. The overall color palette is dominated by dark blues, greys, and blacks, with some lighter areas on the ship's sails and the sky.

of the Ancient Mariner originally The Rime of the Ancient Mariner is the longest major poem by the English poet Samuel Taylor Coleridge written in 1797-98 and published in 1798 in the first edition of Lyrical Ballads. Modern editions use a revised version printed in 1817 that featured a gloss. Along with other poems in Lyrical Ballads it was a signal shift to modern poetry and the beginning of British Romantic literature. The Rime of the Ancient Mariner relates the experiences of a sailor who has returned from a long sea voyage. The mariner stops a man who is on the way to a wedding ceremony and begins to narrate a story. The wedding guest's reaction turns from bemusement to impatience to fear to fascination as the mariner's story progresses as can be seen in the language style. Coleridge uses narrative techniques such as personification and repetition to create a sense of danger, the supernatural or serenity depending on the mood in different parts of the poem.
