In Search of the Racial Frontier: African Americans in the American West 1528-1990 Quintard Taylor, 1999-05-17 An enthralling work that will be essential reading for years to come David Nicholson Washington Post A landmark history of African Americans in the West In Search of the Racial Frontier rescues the collective American consciousness from thinking solely of European pioneers when considering the exploration settling and conquest of the territory west of the Mississippi From its surprising discussions of groups of African American wholly absorbed into Native American culture to illustrating how the largely forgotten role of blacks in the West helped contribute to everything from the Brown vs Board of Education desegregation ruling to the rise of the Black Panther Party Quintard Taylor fills a major void in American history and reminds us that the African American experience is unlimited by region or social status Making of Urban America Raymond A. Mohl, Roger Biles, 2023-10-03 The revised and updated third edition of The Making of Urban America includes seven new articles and a richly detailed historiographical essay that discusses the vast urban history literature added to the canon since the publication of the second edition. The authors extensively revised introductions and the fifteen reprinted articles trace urban development from the preindustrial city to the twentieth century city With emphasis on the social economic political commercial and cultural aspects of urban history these essays illustrate the growth and change that created modern day urban life Dynamic topics such as technology immigration and ethnicity suburbanization sunbelt cities urban political history and planning and housing are examined The Making of Urban America is the only reader available that covers all of U S urban history and that also includes the most recent interpretive scholarship on the subject

The Black Abolitionist Papers C. Peter Ripley, Roy E. Finkenbine, 2000-11-09 The passage of the Fugitive Slave Law more than any other event in the 1850s provoked a widespread emotionally charged reaction among northern blacks Entire communities responded to the law that threatened free blacks as well as fugitive slaves with arbitrary arrest and enslavement This volume pays particular attention to black resistance through such community efforts as vigilance committees and the underground railroad This five volume documentary collection culled from an international archival search that turned up over 14 000 letters speeches pamphlets essays and newspaper editorials reveals how black abolitionists represented the core of the antislavery movement While the first two volumes consider black abolitionists in the British Isles and Canada the home of some 60 000 black Americans on the eve of the Civil War the remaining volumes examine the activities and opinions of black abolitionists in the United States from 1830 until the end of the Civil War In particular these volumes focus on their reactions to African colonization and the idea of gradual emancipation the Fugitive Slave Law and the promise brought by emancipation during the war Race for Citizenship Helen Heran Jun, 2011-02-23 Helen Heran Jun explores how the history of U S citizenshiphas positioned Asian Americans and African Americans in interlocking socio political relationships since the mid nineteenth century Rejecting the conventional emphasis on inter racial prejudice Jun demonstrates how a politics of inclusion has constituted a racial Other within Asian American and African American discourses of national identity Race for Citizenship examines three salient moments when African American and Asian American citizenship become acutely visible as related crises the Negro Problem and the Yellow Question in the mid to late 19th century World War II era questions around race loyalty and national identity in the context of internment and Jim Crow segregation and post Civil Rights discourses of disenfranchisement and national belonging under globalization Taking up a range of cultural texts the 19th century black press the writings of black feminist Anna Julia Cooper Asian American novels African American and Asian American commercial film and documentary Jun does not seek to document signs of cross racial identification but instead demonstrates how the logic of citizenship compels racialized subjects to produce developmental narratives of inclusion in the effort to achieve political economic and social incorporation Race for Citizenship provides a new model of comparative race studies by situating contemporary questions of differential racial formations within a long genealogy of anti-racist discourse constrained by liberal notions of inclusion African-American Odyssey Albert S. Broussard, 1998 This book illuminates the professional career and private lives of J McCants Stewart a Reconstruction era lawyer minister politician and political activist and his descendants over three generations providing an epic account of an African American family in America Adapted from book jacket Blacks in the American West and Beyond--America, Canada, and Mexico George H. Junne, 2000-05-30 Almost a century before their arrival in the English New World Blacks appeared alongside the Spanish in what is now the American West Through their families communities and institutions these Western Blacks left behind a long history which is just now beginning to receive systematic scholarly treatment Comprehensively indexing a variety of research materials on Blacks in the North American West Junne offers an invaluable navigational tool for students of American and African American history Entries are organized both geographically and topically and cover a broad range of subjects including cross cultural interaction health art and law Contains a complete compilation of African American newspapers John Doe Chinaman Beth Lew-Williams, 2025-09-16 Blacks in Selected Newspapers, Censuses and Other Sources, 1977 The Black Abolitionist Papers: The United States, 1847-1858 .1985 Latinos at the Golden Gate Tomás F. Summers Sandoval ([r.),2013 Latinos at the Golden Gate Creating Community and Identity in San Francisco Race, Radicalism, Religion, and Restriction Kristofer Allerfeldt, 2003-03-30 In 1924 America passed legislation that effectively outlined which immigrants were to be considered beneficial to the national body and which were not Albert Johnson a Washington State Congressman sponsored the Act This study examines the role of the Pacific Northwest in the change of national sentiment that led up to this legislation Throughout the period this region experienced massive growth in its immigrant population Its forests and small towns were the scenes of many clashes with the alien radicals resulting in the creation of anti Catholic legislation and the laws against land ownership by the Japanese Analyzing issues of race religion and political radicalism Allerfeldt determines that the region was highly influential in the national debate Most immigration studies of this era focus on the East Coast or on California but Allerfeldt finds that Northwestern politicians and populists responding to regional events as much as national sentiments often set the national immigration agenda Diverse organizations such as the APA the Ku Klux Klan and the IWW gained powerful local support and had significant influence on the region s attitudes towards immigrants Rather than following California s lead in the opposition to Asian immigration the Northwest actually set the path for its southern neighbor in many important aspects American Book Publishing Record Cumulative, 1950-1977 R.R. Divided Sovereignties Rochelle Raineri Zuck, 2016-08 In eighteenth and nineteenth century debates about the constructions of American nationhood and national citizenship the frequently invoked concept of divided sovereignty signified the division of power between state and federal authorities and or the possibility of one nation residing within the geopolitical boundaries of another Political and social realities of the nineteenth century such as immigration slavery westward expansion Indigenous treaties and financial panics amplified anxieties about threats to national state sovereignty Rochelle Raineri Zuck argues that in the decades between the ratification of the Constitution and the publication of Sutton Griggs s novel Imperium in Imperio in 1899 four populations were most often referred to as racial and ethnic nations within the nation the Cherokees African Americans Irish Americans and Chinese immigrants Writers and orators from these groups engaged the concept of divided sovereignty to assert alternative visions of sovereignty and collective allegiance not just ethnic or racial identity to gain political traction and to complicate existing formations of nationhood and citizenship Their stories intersected with issues that dominated nineteenth century public argument and contributed to the Civil War In five chapters focused on these groups Zuck reveals how constructions of sovereignty shed light on a host of concerns including regional and sectional tensions territorial expansion and jurisdiction economic uncertainty racial ethnic and religious differences international relations immigration and arguments about personhood citizenship and nationhood
