Sanibel And Captiva:

Protecting Sanibel and Captiva Islands Charles LeBuff, Betty Anholt, 2018-12-10 The vibrant Sanibel and Captiva Islands are ecological marvels compared to Florida's many overbuilt barrier islands. Development began with the construction of the Sanibel Island Lighthouse in 1884 when only the lighthouse keeper and assistant and their families lived on the island. Noted conservationist Jay N. Ding Darling led the charge in preserving the islands' wildlife and natural beauty from the greed of real estate speculators and land developers in the 1930s. Former presidents like Harry Truman and cabinet level executives worked alongside Sanibel and Captiva residents setting up preserves and wildlife refuges to guard the integrity of the islands' unique natural blessings, abundant wildlife and aquatic stores. Charles LeBuff and Betty Anholt review the evolution of the islands' conservation ethic and how it perseveres even today.

The Sea Shell Islands Elinore M. Dormer, 1975 Juan Ponce de Leon officially discovered the Sea Shell Islands Sanibel and Captiva in 1513 when he turned landward on the Gulf Coast of Florida and sailed south as far as some islands that make out to sea. An abundant food supply attracted Indians before the Age of Discovery and their gold gleaned from shipwrecks brought the Spanish conquistadores. Slavers, pirates, marauding Seminoles all were part of the colorful, often tempestuous history of these islands now famous for sea shells. Mrs. Dormer's descriptions are informative and always lively whether she's discussing and re-creating the accidental discovery of Sanibel and Captiva, making conjectures about a possible earlier visit by Amerigo Vespucci or delving into the personal histories of some of the first permanent settlers on the two tiny isles. She makes it clear why such personages as Thomas A. Edison, Theodore Roosevelt and Edna St. Vincent Millay were drawn there as well. The present also is very real in The Sea Shell Islands as Islanders fight to keep the charms of another era against the almost insurmountable odds of explosive growth.

Publisher's description

Historic Sanibel & Captiva Islands Jeri Magg, 2011-08-11 The story of Sanibel and Captiva Islands stretches back over three hundred years to a time when natives roamed the islands and Spanish explorer Ponce de Leon first met and tried to subdue the Calusa Indians in San Carlos Bay in 1513. The next few centuries were flooded with pioneers, fishermen and clergymen in their quest to tame the wilderness in search of a better life. Discover how anthropologist Frank Cushing visited pioneer Sam Ellis in 1895 after the farmer discovered bones on his homestead and how President Theodore Roosevelt's men saved a little girl from drowning when he lived on a houseboat in Captiva to study local marine life. Join local history columnist Jeri Magg as she recounts the storied history of these little slices of paradise.
