Managing the Arts in Rural Areas David Andrew Snider,2023-05-15 Why do the arts matter so much in rural areas The arts are needed now more than ever to heal the social fabric grow the population drive the local economy and in some cases replace lost industries Post pandemic a significant portion of the population hungers for hands on in person arts experiences at a human scale At the same time rural areas are ripe with innovation community connections and an entrepreneurial spirit that fits well with creativity and arts based community engagement As rural areas continue to evolve past their previous ties to agriculture industry and mining the arts offer new ways to enrich communities spark local economies and create tourist destinations in tandem with their glorious surroundings One goal of this book is to help dispel the myth of rural equaling white people Six of the twelve arts organizations featured in this book are led by people of color and or serve populations in which people of color are the majority Eleven of the twelve organizations are led in part or entirely by female identifying arts leaders These numbers are happy accidents and not criteria of the selection or search process It just turns out that when you start looking for wonderful rural arts organizations you find diversity Managing the Arts in Rural Areas explores the challenges facing rural communities today and the positive impacts provided by the arts on economic development diversity equity inclusion and access fundraising arts education and community development With dynamic case studies on arts organizations in rural areas from Alaska to Alabama and from Montana to Arizona Managing the Arts in Rural Areas gives readers deep insights into how the arts are helping to define and grow rural areas today The Homemaker, 1892 Sourcebook for Sundays and Seasons Paul Turner, 2003-02 Social Studies for a Better World:

An Anti-Oppressive Approach for Elementary Educators (Equity and Social Justice in Education) Noreen Naseem Rodriguez, Katy Swalwell, 2021-11-16 Plan and deliver a curriculum to help your students connect with the humanity of others In the wake of 2020 we need today's young learners to be prepared to develop solutions to a host of entrenched and complex issues including systemic racism massive environmental problems deep political divisions and future pandemics that will severely test the effectiveness and equity of our health policies What better place to start that preparation than with a social studies curriculum that enables elementary students to envision and build a better world In this engaging guide two experienced social studies educators unpack the oppressions that so often characterize the elementary curriculum normalization idealization heroification and dramatization and show how common pitfalls can be replaced with creative solutions Whether you're a classroom teacher methods student or curriculum coordinator this is a book that can transform your understanding of the social studies disciplines and their power to disrupt the narratives that maintain current inequities
