Loseff,V. Polukhina,1999-06-23 This is an imaginative work of literary criticism Thirteen scholars have selected a wide variety of Joseph Brodsky s poems written between 1970 and 1994 for detailed discussion in the context of his whole output The choice of poems reflects Brodsky s diversity of themes and devices Together they offer a perspective on one of the most original and profound modern poets This collection should fulfil the often expressed need for a comprehensive approach to the study of Brodsky s poetry which is linguistically as well as intellectually demanding God of Desire Catherine Benton,2006-06-01 Presents Kamadeva the Hindu god of desire in tales art and ritual Also covers Kamadeva s appearance in Buddhist lore Authentic Cosmopolitanism Russell J. Snell,Steven D. Cone,2013-02-28 Humans are lovers and yet a good deal of pedagogical theory Christian or otherwise assumes an anthropology at odds with human nature fixed in a model of humans as thinking things Turning to Augustine or at least Augustine in conversation with Aquinas Martin Heidegger the overlooked Jesuit thinker Bernard Lonergan and the important contemporary Charles Taylor this book provides a normative vision for Christian higher education A phenomenological reappropriation of human subjectivity reveals an authentic order to love even when damaged by sin and loves made authentic by grace allow the intellectually morally and religiously converted person to attain an integral unity Properly understanding the integral relation between love and the fullness of human life overcomes the split between intellectual and moral formation allowing transformed subjects authentic lovers to live seek and work towards the values of a certain kind of cosmopolitanism Christian universities exist to make cosmopolitans properly understood namely those persons capable of living authentically In other words this text gives a full orb ed account of human flourishing rooted in a phenomenological account of the human as basis for the mission of the university Secrecy and Disclosure in Victorian Fiction Leila Silvana May,2016-07-15 Why were the Victorians more fascinated with secrecy than people of other periods What is the function of secrets in Victorian fiction and in the society depicted how does it differ from that of other periods and how did readers of Victorian fiction respond to the secrecy they encountered These are some of the questions Leila May poses in her study of the dynamics of secrecy and disclosure in fiction from Queen Victoria s coronation to the century s end May argues that the works of writers such as Charlotte Bront William Makepeace Thackeray Mary Elizabeth Braddon Edward Bulwer Lytton and

Arthur Conan Doyle reflect a distinctly Victorian obsession with the veiling and unveiling of information She argues that there are two opposing vectors in Victorian culture concerning secrecy and subjectivity one presupposing a form of radical Cartesian selfhood always remaining a secret to other selves and another showing that nothing can be hidden from the trained eye May calls the relation between these clashing tendencies the dialectics of secrecy and disclosure May's theories of secrecy and disclosure are informed by the work of twentieth century social scientists She emphasizes Georg Simmel's thesis that sociality and subjectivity are impossible without secrecy and Erving Goffman's claim that sociality can be understood in terms of performativity the presentation of the self in everyday life and his revelation that performance always involves disguise hence secrecy May's study offers convincing evidence that secrecy and duplicity in contrast to the Victorian period's emphasis on honesty and earnestness emerged in response to the social pressures of class gender monarchy and empire and were key factors in producing both the subjectivity and the sociality that we now recognize as Victorian Love
