Grandparents/Grandchildren Arthur Kornhaber,Kenneth L. Woodward,2019-11-20 In this book Kornhaber and Woodward explore the vital connections which link generations to each other and expose a new social contract that destroys the emotional bonds between grandparents and grandchildren This is the first book which reviews in a careful ethnographic manner the relationship of grandchildren to grandparents and the place of love at one end and abandonment at the other by grandparents The authors probe the deep unexplored emotional histories of hundreds of grandparents how they feel about themselves their grandchildren and their loss of function within today s nuclear family With sharp increases in the number of broken families and working mothers grandparents are more vital than ever and also more available than ever This basic research document shows how grandparents recover their natural role as elders of the family and of society The author s basic premise is that to exist is to be connected and that no matter how grandparents act they affect the emotional well being of their grandchildren for better or for worse simply because they exist In an age when mounting economic and social pressures make it increasingly easier to split a family than to sustain one the authors alert us to a forgotten source of family strength the power of grandparents to enrich the lives as a whole The case studies reported in this volume represent a first effort in an area left unexplored by developmental researchers There are lessons here for social scientists but even more for our alienated society Urie Bronfenbrenner Cornell University

The Ethics of Interpretation Pol Vandavelde,2023-03-07 This book discusses the ethical dimension of the interpretation of texts and events Its purpose is not to address the neutrality or ideological biases of interpreters but rather to discuss the underlying issue of the intervention of interpreters into the process of interpretation The author calls this intervention the ethical aspect of interpretation and argues that interpreters are neither neutral nor necessarily activists He examines three models of interpretation all of which recognize the role that interpreters play in the process of interpretation In these models the question of the truth or validity of interpretation is dependent upon the attitude of interpreters These three models are 1 the principle of charity in interpretation in the two different versions defended by Hans Georg Gadamer and Donald Davidson 2 the production of truth as developed by Paul Ricoeur and Michel Foucault and 3 the regulative principle in interpretation as formal validity claims as presented by Karl Otto Apel and J rgen Habermas and as benevolence or love as an epistemic virtue as defended by Friedrich Schlegel and Friedrich Schleiermacher The critical discussion of these three models which brings to the fore the different manners in which interpreters intervene in the process of interpretation as persons lays the foundations for an ethics of interpretation The Ethics of Interpretation will be of interest to scholars and advanced students working in hermeneutics 19th and 20th century philosophy literary theory and cultural theory
