Женевский протокол 1925 года

Женевский протокол 1925 года стал важным этапом в становлении международно-правового запрета на использование бактериологического оружия. Этот документ запрещал применение удушающих, ядовитых или других подобных газов, а также биологических методов ведения войны.

Протокол был разработан по инициативе Лиги Наций и подписан более чем 130 государствами к 1939 году. Хотя документ не содержал положений о разоружении, он заложил основу для дальнейшего развития норм международного права в этой области.
